VIRGINIA TECH

FOOTBALL

ON THE COVERS

The 2019 Virginia Tech football media guide cover features a Hokie sporting a No. 25 jersey, the number worn by Hall of Fame head coach Frank Beamer that has become an honorary number presented each week during the season under head coach Justin Fuente. Within the number on the maroon Nike jersey you will see the Hokie Stone pattern. Hokie Stone is dolomite, a mineral found in the Appalachian Mountains, that appears on multiple buildings on campus. The image is a part of a series of photos where orange colored powder was tossed at the student-athletes and the reaction of the powder is captured in the photography. Photography by fitness and sports photographer Zach Ancell, based out of Portland, Ore. Graphic design by Ben Smith.

WINNING TRADITION

America's longest active bowl streak, domination of an in-state rival, ACC championships, national exposure, a history of sending players to the NFL, fanatical fan support and an unprecedented track record of families sending multiple members to play for the Hokies are all part of Virginia Tech's winning tradition.

18

FIRST-CLASS FACILITIES

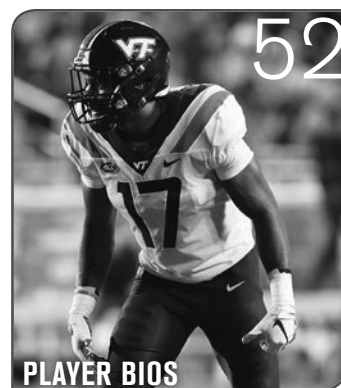

Lane Stadium provides Virginia Tech with one of the most revered homefield advantages in all of college football. A new Student-Athlete Performance Center is under construction, while major renovations of the strength and conditioning areas and football meeting rooms are on the docket. Tech arguably boasts the finest indoor practice facility of any pro or college team in America, an expansive space just footsteps from a fabulous locker room.

COACHING STAFF

Head coach Justin Fuente enters his fourth campaign in Blacksburg, leading a staff the combines some of the nation's most respected coaches, along with talented new additions with fresh ideas and enthusiasm. They share one common mission—identify and recruit the best student-athletes to Virginia Tech and then help prepare them for success.

PLAYER BIOS

The Lunch Pail Defense returns the bulk of its starters from 2018, including experienced performers such as DBs Divine Deablo and Reggie Floyd. In addition to a deep and talented receiving corps, Tech's offensive line features several emerging performers on the offensive line. P Oscar Bradburn earned honorable mention All-ACC accolades a year ago and headlines the specialty units for the Hokies.

WHAT IS A HOKIE?

That's a frequently asked question in Virginia Tech athletics, and the answer leads all the way back to 1896 when Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute. With the change came the necessity for writing a new cheer, and a contest for that purpose was held by the student body. Senior O.M. Stull won first prize for his "Hokie" yell which is still used today. Later, when asked if "Hokie" had any special meaning, Stull explained the word was solely the product of his imagination and was used only as an attention-getter for his yell. It soon became a nickname for all Virginia Tech teams and those people loyal to Tech athletics. The official school colors—Chicago maroon and burnt orange—also were introduced in 1896. They were chosen because they made a "unique combination" not worn elsewhere at the time.

SEASON REVIEW
QB Ryan Willis started the final 12 games of the 2018 season. His 24 TD passes tied as the second-highest single-season mark in Tech history. Willis finished fourth in the ACC in passing ypg (226.3), passer rating (137.9) and fifth in total offense (256.2 ypg).

RECORDS/HISTORY
Virginia Tech's history and football records are inextricably linked. A litany of NFL greats like Kam Chancellor, Carroll Dale, Brandon Flowers, Bruce Smith and Michael Vick firmly etched their names in Tech history during their memorable careers with the Hokies.

BEAMER LEGACY
Few figures in college football history are as beloved as Frank Beamer who was enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame's Class of 2018. His legacy transcended Blacksburg as he made a lasting impact on the way the game was played as the term "BeamerBall" became synonymous with excellence in all three phases of the game.

ESPN'S THURSDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL

In the 1990s, head coach Frank Beamer embraced the opportunity for his program to own the national spotlight in primetime in the middle of the week on ESPN's Thursday Night Football. Since the inception of the Thursday Night Football package in 1991, the Hokies are 23-10 (.697) in such games. Those 33 Thursday night appearances are the most of any FBS program.

COLLEGE GAMEDAY + VIRGINIA TECH

ESPN's College GameDay has had no greater connection to a university than Virginia Tech. Former Tech head coach Frank Beamer was an early supporter of the production and the Hokie Nation helped elevate the show to new heights as thousands would show up and make noise during the broadcast. Among the top moments between College GameDay and Virginia Tech include the show's two visits to Blacksburg in 1999 and its broadcast ahead of the first game in Lane Stadium following the April 16 tragedy between the Hokies and East Carolina on Sept. 1, 2007. The weekly traveling road show has been on site for 11 Virginia Tech games since 1999 and has visited Blacksburg six times.

2019 TECH TRADITIONS

NOTHING defines Lane Stadium more than the playing of "Enter Sandman" as the team runs out of the tunnel before kickoff.

For the past 19 years, Tech fans have become part of the stadium's "Enter Sandman" culture. Virginia Tech has played the introduction of the Metallica classic as the team has emerged out of the tunnel and onto Worsham Field since 2000.

HOKIE STONE

Before each home football game, Tech's players and coaching staff enter Lane Stadium through the tunnel to Worsham Field. As they pass beneath a Hokie Stone they touch for good luck, they see these words: "For those who have passed. For those to come ... Reach for Excellence."

KEY PLAY

For many years, whether it's on the road or at Lane Stadium, Hokie Nation has helped the Lunch Pail Defense by making noise with their keys. A "key play" most frequently occurs on a third down, fourth down or the final play of the game.

HOKIE VILLAGE

Located on the Mosely Practice Field, across Beamer Way from Lane Stadium, Hokie Village opens up 3.5 hours before kickoff, is free for all, and begins Tech's gameday experience.

HOKIE WALK

Established in 2001, when the football team arrives on campus about 2.5 hours before kickoff, the Hokies take the short walk up Beamer Way sandwiched on either side by the Tech faithful.

MARCHING VIRGINIANS

Known as "The Spirit of Tech" and established in 1974, the Marching Virginians draw from the general student body and perform at halftime of every home football game.

THE HIGHTY-TIGHTIES

A Regimental Band, the Highty-Tighties are Tech's longest-serving musical organization and the oldest college band in the Commonwealth and is a company in the third battalion of the Virginia Tech Corps of Cadets.

SKIPPER

In 1963, three Virginia Tech students and Corps of Cadets members built a cannon and it made its debut against VMI in the two schools' annual Thanksgiving Day game. The students named the cannon "Skipper" after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated on November 22, 1963. Ever since, Skipper fires outside of Lane Stadium at the opening of Hokie Village, after the national anthem and whenever the Hokies score.

HOKIE POKEY

The spirit teams and the Marching Virginians' tuba section lead the Lane Stadium crowd in Blacksburg's rendition of the Hokie Pokey.

NFL DRAFT HISTORY

Tremaine (left) and Terrell Edmunds (right) made history in the 2018 NFL Draft by becoming the only pair of brothers to ever be selected in the first round of the same NFL Draft. Tremaine was the 16th overall selection by Buffalo, while Terrell was introduced by Ryan Shazier as the 28th overall pick by Pittsburgh. Eldest brother, Trey, is a running back for the Pittsburgh Steelers. Draft photos courtesy of the NFL.

THE REAL #DBU

Virginia Tech has earned a reputation for developing some of the NFL's top defensive backs under the direction of defensive coordinator Bud Foster. Kam Chancellor, Brandon Flowers, Kyle Fuller and DeAngelo Hall all earned Pro Bowl berths after honing their craft in Blacksburg. Tech currently boasts seven active defensive backs in the NFL ranks, including Kendall Fuller and Chuck Clark (below).

TWO-TIME NFL COACH OF THE YEAR

BRUCE ARIANS

Quarterback – Virginia Tech (1972-74)

Head Coach – Arizona Cardinals (2013-17)

Head Coach – Tampa Bay Buccaneers (2019)

- Associated Press NFL Coach of the Year – Indianapolis Colts (2012)
- Associated Press NFL Coach of the Year – Arizona Cardinals (2014)

Bruce Arians took a long and winding path before finally becoming an NFL head coach. This former Tech quarterback has a penchant for getting the best out of passers at the pro level with his notable pupils including Super Bowl champions Peyton Manning and Ben Roethlisberger, as well as the likes of Carson Palmer and Andrew Luck.

Bruce Arians returned to the NFL head coaching ranks in 2019 with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers after serving as an analyst for CBS Sports in 2018.

Lunch Pail Defense

The famed Virginia Tech Lunch Pail has come to symbolize the blue-collar approach of the Hokies' defense under longtime defensive coordinator Bud Foster.

In 1995, Foster served as co-defensive coordinator with Rod Sharpless, whose mother-in-law found the original Lunch Pail in Mercerville, New Jersey. The pail once belonged to a coal miner and after a record-setting defensive season, the Lunch Pail became an iconic part of Hokies' lore.

The Pail travels wherever the Hokies go and its care is only entrusted to a defensive leader.

Before the start of every season, a signed mission statement from the defense is placed in The Pail. Then every week, unit goals, team goals and keys to success are placed in The Pail, plus the turf from any road victories.

Since 2007, The Pail has also contained the names of the 32 fallen Hokies taken in the April 16 tragedy.

Darryl Tapp is the only player who has ever earned lifetime possession of an incarnation of The Pail from Foster.

#BIGSQUATFRIDAY

Under Hilgart, #BigSquatFriday has become a new Virginia Tech offseason tradition where players finish their Friday workouts by piling plenty of weight on the bar as their coaches and teammates enthusiastically cheer them on. Austin Cannon, Dalton Keene and Tyrell Smith are among the many players who have distinguished themselves in Tech's strength and conditioning program.

Notable Alums of VT

ROB WITTMAN

HERBERT J. THOMAS, JR.

(Class of 1944)

Thomas, a former football player, received the Medal of Honor for action on Bougainville Island in the South Pacific during World War II. During a battle, Thomas threw a grenade, but the jungle vines dropped it back among his men. Thomas jumped on the grenade, giving his life to save the lives of his men.

CHRISTOPHER KRAFT

(Class of 1944)

Kraft, a former baseball player, is a retired NASA engineer who established the agency's "Mission Control" operation. He served as the agency's first flight director and oversaw the first human spaceflight, orbital flight and spacewalk. The Mission Control Center at the Lyndon B. Johnson Space Center in Houston is named after Kraft, who graduated from Tech with a degree in aeronautical engineering.

DAVE CALHOUN

(Class of 1979)

Calhoun is the senior managing director and head of private equity portfolio operations of Blackstone. He also has worked as a vice chairman of The General Electric Company. He graduated with a degree in accounting and serves on the Pamplin College of Business Advisory Council.

ROB WITTMAN

(Class of 1981)

Wittman earned his degree in biological sciences and worked for 26 years in state government as a field director for the division of shellfish sanitation in the Virginia health department and as an environmental health specialist for local health departments in the commonwealth. He transitioned to politics, and today, the former Corps of Cadets member is a U.S. Congressman, representing Virginia's 1st Congressional District.

Christopher Kraft presented a moon rock to Virginia Tech in 2006.

ROBERT RICHARDSON

(Class of 1958 and 1960)

Richardson brought international notoriety to Virginia Tech when he shared the 1996 Nobel Prize in Physics with two others for their 1972 discovery of the property of superfluidity in helium-3 atoms. He received both his undergraduate and master's degrees in physics from Virginia Tech and spent nearly his entire career as a professor and physics researcher at Cornell.

LETITIA "TISH" LONG

(Class of 1982)

Long began her career in the U.S. Navy before she even graduated with her degree in electrical engineering, serving as an intern developing capabilities for the submarine force. She eventually moved into intelligence arena, and in 2010, became the director of the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency. She became the first woman to lead a major U.S. intelligence agency. In 2014, she retired after 36 years of federal service.

IRVING PEDDREW

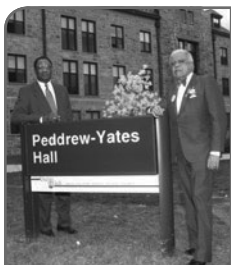

(Class of 2016)

Peddrew was the first African-American student to attend Virginia Tech and the first to attend any historically all-white four-year public institution in the 11 former states of the Confederacy when he enrolled in 1953. Peddrew studied at Tech for three years before moving to California to join the workforce. In 2016, the university presented him with an honorary Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering.

HODA KOTB

(Class of 1986)

Kotb serves as co-anchor of the TODAY show with Savannah Guthrie on NBC. She also served as a correspondent for Dateline NBC, an investigative show on the network. In addition, she has written three books and once served as Virginia Tech's commencement speaker (2008). She graduated from the university with a degree in broadcast journalism.

(Class of 1958)

Yates was the first African-American graduate of Virginia Tech, receiving his degree in mechanical engineering 1958. He later became a college professor and twice returned to Virginia Tech to work. The final time was in 1987 when he served as an associate professor in the aerospace and engineering department. He remained at Tech until his retirement in 2000. In 2010, he passed away after a long bout with leukemia.

STEVE MOLLENKOPF

(Class of 1992)

Mollenkopf began his career with Qualcomm more than 20 years ago as an engineer and eventually led the chipset business, overseeing the launch of the 4G technology. In 2010, he moved into the role of chief operating officer and he now serves as the CEO of the company. He graduated from the university with a degree in electrical engineering.

HOMER HICKAM

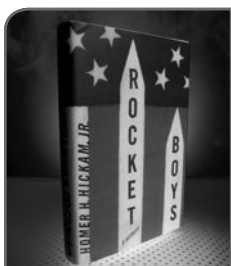

(Class of 1964)

As a Corps of Cadets member, Hickam designed Skipper, the iconic cannon Virginia Tech fires during football games when it scores and also at other functions. After graduating with a degree in industrial engineering, Hickam served in the military during the Vietnam War, and after he returned, he worked for NASA. But he is best known as an author, with his memoir "Rocket Boys," becoming a New York Times best seller. The 1999 movie entitled "October Sky" was based off Hickam's book.

ERIK NEANDER

(Class of 2005)

The second-youngest general manager in Major League Baseball, Neander is in his third season in that role for the Tampa Bay Rays. He originally joined the franchise in 2007 as an intern and has quickly risen through the organization's ranks. The Oneonta, New York native graduated from Tech with a bachelor's of science in food, nutrition and exercise.

Ut Prosim Lives Here

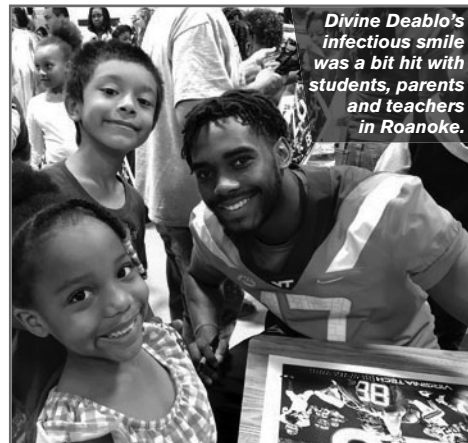

Coach Fuente and the Hokies have firmly embraced Virginia Tech's motto of Ut Prosim (That I May Serve). The team frequently takes the opportunity to serve others, whether it means visiting local schools in Southwest Virginia, or spreading goodwill during the holidays or during bowl trips.

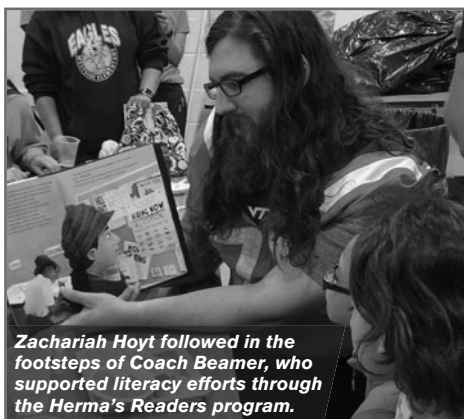

Steven Peoples proudly displayed his USO hat at the 2018 Military Bowl.

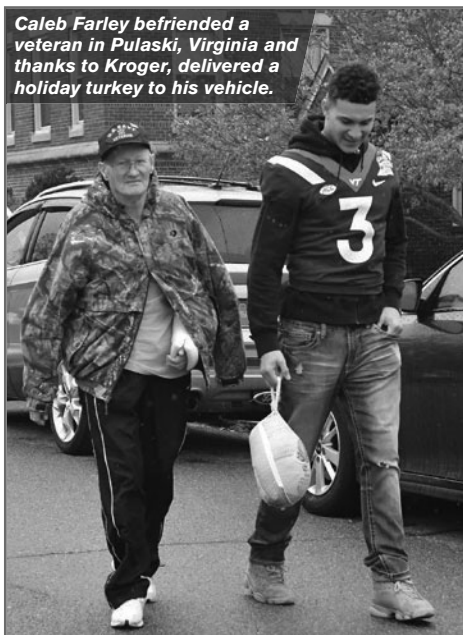

The Hokies displayed their vocal talents with a stirring rendition of "Let it Go" at Levine Children's Hospital.

Divine Deablo's infectious smile was a bit hit with students, parents and teachers in Roanoke.

Zachariah Hoyt followed in the footsteps of Coach Beamer, who supported literacy efforts through the Herma's Readers program.

Caleb Farley befriended a veteran in Pulaski, Virginia and thanks to Kroger, delivered a holiday turkey to his vehicle.

Devon Hunter and several of his teammates partnered with Feeding America Southwest Virginia to provide meals to our neighbors in need.

The Hokies visited Pulaski, Virginia in December 2018 to help brighten the holidays for some of our neighbors in need.

Quincy Patterson and several teammates took a trip to Roanoke to engage and read with students this spring.

The entire squad packed care packages for our troops in conjunction with the USO during Tech's trip to the 2018 Military Bowl.

Tremaine Edmunds was part of Tech's contingent that visited Levine Children's Hospital in Charlotte during the week of the 2016 Belk Bowl.

Coach Fuente leads by example by helping bring smiles and Tech's spirit of Ut Prosim on the road.

Beamer-Lawson Indoor Practice Facility

The Beamer-Lawson Indoor Practice Facility fits in perfectly with the other buildings on the university's sprawling campus—from its color to its design features to its architectural touches. The facility was built by Hokies, for Hokies and paid for by Hokies.

The facility, built by W.M. Jordan Company—a company whose CEO is John Lawson, a 1975 graduate of Tech—cost $21.3 million and was finished in the summer of 2015. It possesses all the features befitting of a nationally recognized football program, while also being flexible enough to help certain Olympic sports.

In 2018, the facility was named the Beamer-Lawson Indoor Practice Facility in honor of Lawson and former Virginia Tech student-athlete and head coach Frank Beamer.

Tech's facility is 210 feet wide and 400 feet long, with an artificial surface installed by Shaw Sports Turf. The synthetic turf is fast, firm and dense. The height from the playing surface to the bottom of the steel ceiling trusses is more than 86 feet at its apex, thus allowing plenty of room for punting and kicking. Its' eight-foot padded walls, wide sidelines, full scoreboard and 40-second clocks on each end allow the football program to hold a full-contact scrimmage.

In addition, the facility features garage-type doors, which open quickly and allow the players to move rapidly from the outdoor practice field into the indoor facility in the event of inclement weather. Tech's staff, though, uses the facility more than just when the weather turns ugly.

The facility also features a video platform that runs the entire length of the field. Three doors at separate locations lead out to observation decks to allow the video staff to film the portions of practice being held outdoors.

W.M. Jordan handled most of the construction responsibilities for the facility, but HKS Architects designed the facility, and the architectural and design features of the building definitely give it a Virginia Tech feel. It possesses maroon trim and Hokie stone on the bases of each support column. The archway entrance resembles that at Lane Stadium.

Plus, the university's core values—brotherhood, honor, leadership, sacrifice, service, loyalty, duty and Ut Prosim—have been etched along the bases of the columns. Architects borrowed this feature from the pylons above War Memorial Chapel along Tech's Drillfield.

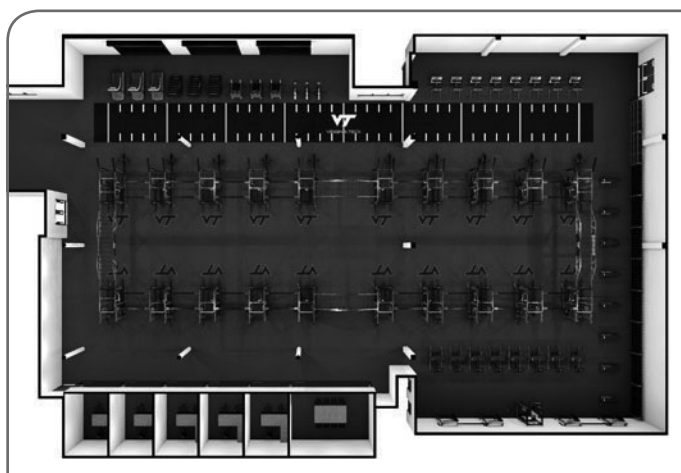

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Plans are now underway to transform the Virginia Tech Football strength and conditioning center into a dynamic training area to meet the current and future needs of the program. This $4.5 million renovation and expansion project will nearly double the functional workout space of the facility located in the Merryman Center, increasing the total square footage from approximately 6,900 square feet to over 12,300 square feet.

The new design of the strength and conditioning area will take better advantage of existing space, while moving a refueling station for post-workout nutrition directly adjacent to the current weight room. With the Beamer-Lawson Indoor Practice Facility now providing more than ample space to stretch the squad, the area previously used for that function in the weight room will be available to house more weight racks and stations. Expansive rolling doors similar to those utilized in the design of the Beamer-Lawson Indoor Practice Facility will provide quick ingress and egress for large groups of student-athletes. Offices for the strength and conditioning staff will also be relocated to this area.

Conceptual renderings subject to change.

Merryman Center

In September 2017, the team unveiled its new team meeting room that was made possible by the generosity of Virginia Tech Football alum Steve Johnson. The renovated version includes new seating, lighting, wall graphics on the walls and new sound system. Additional plans call for the renovation of the Hokies' nine position meeting rooms, adding similar features. In addition, this comprehensive renovation at the Merryman Center will reconfigure and expand the team's position meeting rooms to compliment the look and feel of the recently-renovated team meeting room.

In 2016, work began in earnest on creating a dramatic entrance to the Merryman Center, which is typically one of the first spots that recruits and their families visit at Virginia Tech. From expansive video displays, to an opening of the Legends Hall area that now provides a panoramic view of Lane Stadium, the Beamer-Lawson Indoor Practice Facility and Practice Fields, a welcoming aura can be felt in this area, right down to the floor's tile which pays homage to Tech's trademark Hokie Stone.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- Was recruited to the University of Oklahoma by Howard Schnellenberger and played two seasons for the Sooners.
- Saw duty in 20 games at OU and led the Sooners to a 30-27 upset in win overtime against No. 25 Texas in the Red River Shootout (10/12/96) in the inaugural Big 12 contest between the two longtime rivals. Also set an OU freshman record with 11 TD passes that season.
- Transferred to Murray State, the same school that Frank Beamer coached prior accepting the Tech job in 1987.
- Set 11 schools records during his two-year career at Murray State, completing 458 of 794 passes (57.7%) for 6,372 yards with 50 touchdowns and 20 interceptions, good for a 140.8 rating. Also scored two rushing TDs and had a 15-yard reception.
- Posted a career-high 553 yards at Southern Illinois (9/11/99) and threw for 470 yards and five TDs in his final game against Kentucky Wesleyan (11/20/99), leading the Racers to a 53-0 victory.
- Named the 1999 Ohio Valley Conference Offensive Player of the Year and was a finalist for the Walter Payton Award.
- Played professionally for the Arena Football League's Oklahoma Wranglers before beginning his coaching career.

ENTERING SEASON NO. 4 IN HOKIE NATION!

• Fuente was named Virginia Tech's head coach on Nov. 29, 2015 after orchestrating a dramatic resurrection of the football fortunes at the University of Memphis.

• The Hokies enter their fourth season under Fuente in 2019, who has compiled a 25-15 record in Blacksburg, the most wins by any Tech coach in his first three seasons.

• No other active ACC head coach can top Fuente's 25 wins in his first three seasons at an ACC school. The next-closest coach is Pitt's Pat Narduzzi (21).

• Since Fuente arrived in Blacksburg in 2016, the only ACC schools with more wins are Clemson (41) and Miami (26).

• Fuente's 25 victories at Tech already rank eighth in school history with B.C. Cabbage (30) and Branch Bocock (34) looming just ahead on that list.

• Tech extended its streak of consecutive bowl appearances to 26 straight seasons in 2018 under Fuente, the longest active streak in the nation and third-longest streak all-time in NCAA history.

• The Hokies have won 15 consecutive Commonwealth Cup games over Virginia, giving Tech the longest active winning streak of any in-state FBS rivalry played annually.

• Tech's 15-game winning streak against Virginia ranks as the nation's third-longest active winning streak in a series pitting a pair of Power Five foes. Ohio State and Michigan both own 23 consecutive victories against Indiana.

• The Hokies have finished in the Top 25 twice in Fuente's three seasons at the helm in Blacksburg.

• Tech finished the 2016 season ranked No. 16 in both the AP Poll and the Coaches Poll and concluded the 2017 season at No. 24 in the AP Top 25 and No. 25 in the Coaches Poll.

• The Hokies own a 17-3 mark under Fuente when scoring 30+ points and are 22-1 when leading at halftime.

• Fuente's reputation for exemplary work with the offense and quarterbacks was once again on display in 2018. Despite utilizing a third different primary starting QB for a third straight season, the Hokies threw 29 TD passes, just two shy of the single-season school record of 31 set in his debut campaign in Blacksburg in 2016.

• The Hokies have produced the top three passing seasons in school history since Fuente and offensive coordinator Brad Cornelsen arrived at Tech - 2016 (261.4 ypg), 2018 (253.8 ypg) and 2017 (239.5 ypg).

• Despite not entering the starting lineup until the season's third contest in 2018, QB Ryan Willis threw 24 TDs, a mark that tied as the second-best in school history.

• Willis finished fourth in the ACC in passing ypg (226.3) and passer rating (137.9) and fifth in total offense (256.2 ypg). He also registered a 2.67 TD-to-INT differential (24 TDs/9 INTs), while producing three 300-yard passing games.

• In 2017, QB Josh Jackson threw for 2,991 yards, a VT freshman record and the most of any FBS freshman that season. Meanwhile, his 20 TDs and 135.2 rating were second among FBS freshmen behind Georgia QB Jake Fromm (24 TDs, 160.1 ranking).

• Tech's traditionally stout Lunch Pail Defense has also lived up to its reputation under Fuente and defensive coordinator Bud Foster. The Hokies have won 24 straight contests when holding foes to 21 points or fewer, including a 20-0 since Fuente's arrival in 2016.

• The #LPD finished the 2017 season fourth in the FBS in scoring defense (14.8 ppg) and posted an FBS-best three shutouts, while only Michigan (26.1%) held foes to a lower third-down conversion rate than VT (25.2).

• Virginia Tech has continued its special teams success under Fuente and special teams coordinator, James Shibest. The Hokies blocked a pair of punts that were recovered for TDs in 2018. Tech also ranked sixth among FBS squads in 2018, permitting 350 combined punt and kickoff return yards.

• In 2017, the Hokies registered five return scores on defense and special teams (two punt return TDs, two INT return TDs and one fumble return TD).

• Tech tied for second in the FBS with six blocked kicks in 2017, finished second with 413 punt return yards and the led the nation in fewest return yards allowed with 335.

2016 ACC COACH OF THE YEAR

- The consensus 2016 ACC Coach of the Year, Fuente was also named the top first-year FBS head coach in the nation by the Football Writers Association of America, sharing that honor with USC's Clay Helton.
- Tech finished the 2016 season ranked No. 16 in both the AP Poll and the Coaches Poll, marking the highest final mark for the Hokies since 2010 (No. 16 AP, No. 15 Coaches).
- Virginia Tech, Penn State, Colorado, West Virginia and Western Michigan all finished in the AP Top 25 after getting zero votes in the AP Preseason Poll.
- Tech's 10 wins were the team's most since 2011 and the most ever by a first-year Virginia Tech head coach, surpassing the previous mark of nine wins by C.P. Miles in 1905.
- Fuente led Tech to its sixth ACC Coastal Division title and its first since 2010, sending the Hokies to the ACC Championship Game where Tech lost a narrow 42-35 decision to eventual national champion Clemson.
- The Hokies did not lose consecutive games under Fuente in 2016 as the Hokies extended the nation's longest active bowl streak with their 24th straight appearance.
- Virginia Tech's 35-24 victory over Arkansas in the Belk Bowl marked the largest comeback in school history. The Hokies were down 24-0 at halftime before scoring 35 unanswered points en route to victory, making Fuente the initial coach to guide the Hokies to a bowl victory in his debut season.
- The Hokies broke 10 offensive single-season records in 2016, most notably registering school marks for points (490), total first downs (330), TD passes (31), passing yards (3,660) and yards of total offense (6,223).
- Among ACC squads, only Clemson (26.9) averaged more first downs per game than Virginia Tech (23.6) in 2016.
- The Hokies also returned to their dominant defensive ways in Fuente's debut campaign as Tech ranked second in the nation in third-down defense (27.5%), while ranking fourth among Power Five squads in tackles for loss (113.0) and fifth in opponent completion percentage (50.1).
- Virginia Tech also experienced a special teams resurgence as the Hokies returned to its Beamer Ball roots, blocking four kicks (three FGs, one punt), while registering TDs on a punt return and a blocked FG return.

1. Fuente and the Hokies hoisted The Black Diamond Trophy after a 31-24 win over West Virginia to begin the 2017 season.

2. Fuente catches up with ESPN's Chris Fowler during practice in 2018.

3. Fuente gets a Gatorade bath following a victory in the 2016 Belk Bowl.

4. The squad celebrates an ACC Coastal title following a 2016 win vs. UVA.

THE MEMPHIS TURNAROUND

- Compiled a 19-6 record in his final two seasons at Memphis, guiding the Tigers to back-to-back bowl berths after inheriting a program that went 5-31 in three years before his arrival.
- Unanimous selection as 2014 American Athletic Conference Coach of the Year when he led Memphis to its first conference title since 1971.
- Guided Memphis to a 15-game winning streak that included a 37-24 win over No. 13 Ole Miss (10/17/15).
- Memphis posted a 9-3 regular season mark in 2015, capped by a 63-0 win vs. SMU in Fuente's finale as the Tigers' head coach.
- The Tigers concluded a 10-3 season in 2014 with a 55-48 double-OT triumph over BYU in the Miami Beach Bowl, the first 10-win season for the Tigers since 1938.
- Fuente's final game as Memphis head coach was a 63-0 win vs. SMU (11/28/15). QB Paxton Lynch tied an FBS record with seven touchdown passes in the first half of that game. Lynch threw for a school-record 28 TD passes on the 2015 season.
- Memphis outscored its opponents by an average margin of 20.7 points per game during a run of 15 consecutive wins from 2014-15, scoring 652 points (43.5 ppg), while allowing only 341 (22.7 ppg).
- Memphis scored 471 points in 2014, shattering the old school record of 430 points set in 2004, while allowing a mere 19.5 points per game, a figure that ranked 11th among FBS squads.
- The Tigers went +11 (31 takeaways/20 giveaways) in the turnover column in 2014, finishing the campaign ranked in both the AP Top 25 and in the USA Today/Amway Coaches Polls, a first in school history.
- Fuente's squad led Conference USA in total defense in league games in 2012, giving up just 331.6 ypg.
- The Tigers also excelled on special teams under Fuente as Tom Hornsey won the 2013 Ray Guy Award as the nation's top collegiate punter.

FCS ROOTS AT ILLINOIS STATE

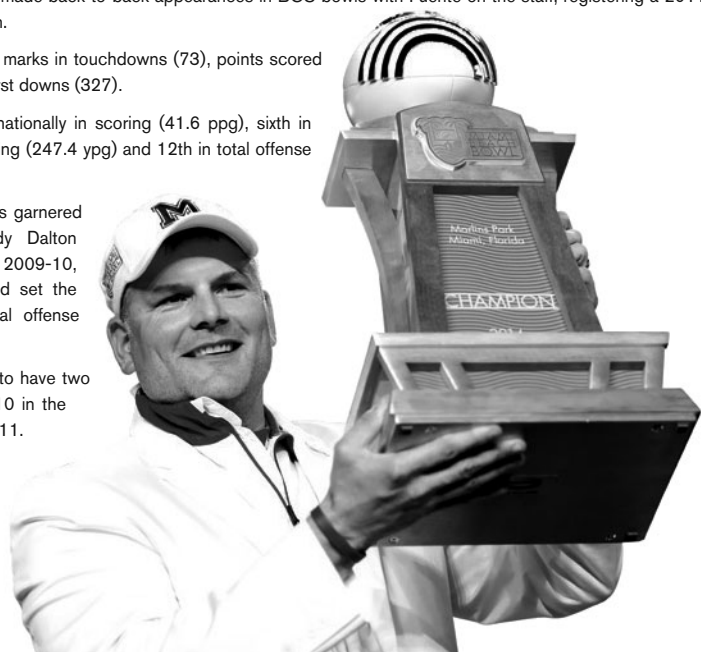

- The composition of Fuente's current staff traces some key roots to his initial coaching assignment at Illinois State as two of his 10 assistants—Brad Cornelsen and Vance Vice—worked with him there. In an ironic twist, the hometown of Bud Foster (Nokomis, Ill.) is actually less than 100 miles from Normal, Illinois.
- After beginning his tenure at Illinois State coaching quarterbacks in 2001, he added offensive coordinator duties to his assignment for his final three seasons with the Redbirds (2004-06).
- Under his direction in 2005, Illinois State ranked fifth in both total offense (477.6 ypg) and scoring (39.2 ppg) among FCS squads.

BUILDING THE BLUEPRINT AT TCU

- Earned a well-deserved reputation not only as a top recruiter, but also as one of football's most innovative offensive minds during a record-setting five-year stint on head coach Gary Patterson's staff at TCU (2007-11).
- It was also at TCU where Fuente began a track record of developing quarterbacks and preparing them for NFL futures.
- During his final three seasons as play caller, QBs coach and co-offensive coordinator at TCU from 2008-10, the Horned Frogs produced a 36-3 overall record and went on a 24-game win streak in the Mountain West Conference.
- From 2008-10, TCU was the only program in the country that finished in the Top 10 in both the AP Poll and USA Today Coaches Poll all three of those campaigns. TCU also made back-to-back appearances in BCS bowls with Fuente on the staff, registering a 2011 Rose Bowl victory over No. 5 Wisconsin.
- In 2010, TCU set single-season school marks in touchdowns (73), points scored (541), total offense (6,199 yards) and first downs (327).
- The Horned Frogs also ranked fourth nationally in scoring (41.6 ppg), sixth in passing efficiency (166.9), 10th in rushing (247.4 ypg) and 12th in total offense (476.9 ypg) in 2010.
- His prowess for mentoring quarterbacks garnered national attention as TCU QB Andy Dalton flourished under his tutelage. From 2009-10, Dalton led TCU to a 25-1 record and set the Mountain West career record for total offense (11,925 yards).
- TCU was the only school in the nation to have two different quarterbacks rank in the top 10 in the country in passing efficiency from 2009-11.
- After Dalton completed his career as TCU's career leader in virtually every passing category, QB Casey Pachall picked up where Dalton left off. In 2011, Pachall led TCU to an 11-2 mark, completing 66.5 percent of his throws (228 of 343) with 25 TDs and seven INTs.

COACHING INFLUENCES

BILL BLANKENSHIP

Fuente played for Blankenship at Tulsa's Union High School. Blankenship later served as head coach at Tulsa (2011-14) and worked with Fuente at Memphis (2015). He currently is the head coach at Owasso High School in Owasso, Oklahoma.

"I'd still run through a brick wall for him. Many years later, he's still my coach, but he's also become a great friend, confidant and mentor. I'm eternally grateful for everything he's taught me over the years, lessons that have extended far beyond the football field. He's taught me about life, how to treat people, how to deal with success and how to overcome adversity." – Fuente

DICK WINDER

The late Winder served as Oklahoma offensive coordinator when Fuente was quarterbacking the Sooners in the 1990s. Winder retired as Gary Patterson's quarterbacks coach at TCU following the 2006 season and encouraged Patterson to interview Fuente for that position.

"Coach Winder was as rough and tough and as hard as they come. I would have jumped in front of a train for him, though. He was the polar opposite of Coach Blankenship personality-wise, but what an amazing coach. While my demeanor may be different, a lot of techniques and idiosyncracies of coaching offense and quarterbacks specifically, I took from Coach Winder." – Fuente

GARY PATTERSON

Before accepting the challenge of rebuilding the Memphis program, Fuente spent five invaluable seasons working with Patterson at TCU from 2007-11 as the Horned Frogs emerged as a national power.

"I patterned many organizational pieces of our program based on the structure of what Coach Patterson had developed at TCU. Working with Gary really prepared me in a number of facets to become a head coach. Gary's expertise was on defense, but I really appreciated the balance he struck between giving us his input on the offense and then giving us the freedom to operate, while being mindful of the overall picture with defense and special teams. It was a great lesson and it's a style I try to emulate with our staff." – Fuente

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Respected as one of the nation's top coaching minds and one of college football's most decorated defensive coordinators, enters his 33rd season at Virginia Tech.
- The architect of Tech's famed Lunch Pail Defense, Foster is the longest continually tenured FBS assistant coach at the same school with those 33 years of service, a mark that is seven seasons longer than the next two individuals on that list.
- Elevated to the post of associate head coach by current Tech head coach Justin Fuente after enjoying a historic 29-season run under Frank Beamer that began in 1987. Interestingly, both Fuente and Foster played at Murray State more than a decade apart.
- Has held the distinction of serving as Tech's defensive signal caller since 1995 (as co-coordinator) before taking over sole possession of defensive coordinator duties in 1996.
- Has been a key component in helping the Hokies register the nation's longest active bowl streak recognized by the NCAA, a 26-year stretch that began in 1993.
- Beginning in 1995, the Hokies began a stretch where the program produced 13 seasons with 10 or more victories during a 17-season span.
- Won the 2006 Broyles Award, given annually to the top assistant coach in the country, and was a finalist on three other occasions (1999, 2001, 2005).
- Named the Division I-A Defensive Coordinator of the Year by American Football Coach magazine after helping the Hokies to the 1999 national championship game on the strength of a defense that led the nation in scoring defense at 10.5 ppg.
- His defenses have led the nation in a major defensive statistical category nine times and have placed in the top five 44 different times.
- Dating back to the start of the 2000 season, only Alabama (27) has pitched more shutouts than Tech (22).
- Foster's 2017 defense led the nation in opponent completion percentage (48.60%), was second on third downs (26.2), fourth in scoring defense (14.8 ppg) and were fifth in first downs allowed (290).

- Virginia Tech has finished in the top five in scoring defense on seven different occasions under Foster. In addition to ranking fourth in 2017, Tech led the nation in both 1999 and 2006, while ranking second in 2001, 2004 and 2005. The Hokies registered six straight top 10 finishes in scoring defense from 2004-09.
- The Hokies led the nation in total defense in both 2005 and 2006, while ranking second in 2001.
- His 2006 defense was arguably one of Virginia Tech's finest as the Hokies led the nation in scoring defense (11.0 ppg), total defense (219.5 ypg) and pass defense (128.2 ypg).
- Since Foster took over sole reins as Tech's defensive coordinator in 1996, the Hokies lead all FBS programs in sacks (856.0), sack yardage (-5,839), interceptions (380) and third-down percentage (31.2).
- Over that same span, only Alabama (16.3 ppg) and Ohio State (17.0 ppg) have been better in scoring than Virginia Tech (18.1). Tech, Ohio State and Florida State are the only three programs during that time frame to own over 800 sacks and over 350 INTs.
- Since the start of the 1996 season the Hokies are tied for second with Ohio State with 47 INT return TDs. Only Florida (50) owns more over that period.
- Thanks to his opportunistic defenses, Virginia Tech owns an unbelievable +127 turnover differential (615 takes/492 gives) dating back to 1996, while 53 different defensive players have scored a total of 81 touchdowns.
- Blacksburg has truly become a no-passing zone under his direction. Since the start of the 1996 campaign, Tech has permitted the lowest completion percentage (50.8) of any FBS team, while owning the second-best INT percentage (4.3) of any Power Five squad and the fourth-best TD/INT differential (0.82) over that span.
- Only Florida (106.4) and Ohio State (107.7) have held opponents to a lower composite passer rating than VT (108.0) since 1996.
- Going back to 1996 NFL Draft, 45 of his defensive pupils have been drafted including 11 players picked in the first or second rounds. Seven of those 11 first or second-round selections have been defensive backs, including a trio of first rounders in CBs Kyle Fuller (D1-14, Chicago), DeAngelo Hall (D1-04, Atlanta) and S Terrell Edmunds (D1-18, Pittsburgh).

- Coached three of the four Fuller brothers—Vinnie, Kyle and Kendall—part of the only quartet of brothers in NFL history to all be drafted and all attend the same college.
- Kyle Fuller authored an exceptional campaign in 2018, earning All-Pro honors and a trip to the Pro Bowl after tying for the NFL lead with seven INTs and helping guide Chicago to an NFC North title. Meanwhile, younger brother Kendall was an instrumental part of a Chiefs squad that reached the AFC Championship Game.
- Coached two of the three Edmunds brothers—Tremaine and Terrell—the only pair of brothers to both be selected in the first round of the same NFL Draft.
- Both Edmunds brothers earned starting roles as NFL rookies in 2018. Tremaine led Buffalo with 121 total tackles and become the youngest player in league history to register an interception, while Terrell had one INT and 78 tackles for Pittsburgh.
- Hall earned three Pro Bowl berths during his pro career, while fifth-round pick Kam Chancellor has earned a Super Bowl ring, appeared in two Super Bowls and been named to four Pro Bowl squads with Seattle.
- Three of Foster's players - DT Tim Settle, CB Greg Stroman and CB Adonis Alexander - were drafted by Washington in 2018.
- Postseason honors have become synonymous with the Hokies' defense with at least one defensive player earning All-America honors of some form in 18 different seasons.
- Under Foster, Virginia Tech produced its first Lombardi Award winner and its first Nagurski Trophy winner in Corey Moore.
- The Hokies have also two BIG EAST defensive players of the year during Foster's tenure—Moore, who earned the honor in both 1998 and 1999, and Cornell Brown, who won it in 1995. Brown would later earn a Super Bowl ring with the Baltimore Ravens.
- Began his career as a GA at Murray State (1981-82) before eventually making the move with Beamer to Blacksburg in 1987.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

• Former walk-on defensive back at Nebraska under head coach Frank Solich.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Adam Lechtenberg originally joined Virginia Tech in 2017 as director of player development.
- Was promoted to assistant head coach/executive director of player development in 2018.
- Lechtenberg works directly with head coach Justin Fuente in overseeing the program's recruiting efforts and managing Tech's roster, in addition to serving as the team's 10th assistant coach.
- Served as part of a staff that helped guide Tech to its 26th consecutive bowl berth in 2018, the longest active streak in the nation.
- "Adam has earned the opportunity to take on a larger role with our program," Fuente said upon promoting Lechtenberg in January 2018. "I implicitly trust his judgment and skills as a talent evaluator. He shares my vision for the program and understands what we need to accomplish on a daily basis. Adam also knows the type of people and the traits of players who will help our team improve. I also have a tremendous appreciation for all the positives he brings to our coaching staff as a teacher and innovator. This expanded role allows us to take full advantage of Adam's many skills as our program continues to evolve."
- The Butte, Nebraska native manages all aspects of Tech's roster with Fuente from scholarship allocation to directing the team's walk-on program. His new designation will also permit him to represent Tech on the road as a recruiter and engage directly with high school coaches across the nation.
- During his tenure working with Fuente at Memphis from 2012-15, Lechtenberg served as director of player personnel and acted as a liaison between the football program and academics, admissions and housing.

- Lechtenberg oversaw the Tigers' walk-on program that made a substantial impact on the on-field turnaround at Memphis under Fuente. In total, 11 of his walk-ons eventually earned scholarships at Memphis, while 23 made major contributions.
- Spent the 2016 season as passing game coordinator/wide receivers coach at the University of Tennessee at Martin as the Skyhawks ranked second in the Ohio Valley Conference in scoring (32.2 ppg).
- During the 2016 campaign five members of his receiving corps hauled in 25 receptions or more and six different WRs registered a TD catch.
- In addition to his on-field coaching duties at Tennessee Martin, his recruiting territory included Alabama, Tennessee and junior colleges.
- During his stint as co-offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Central Connecticut State from 2010-11 the Blue Devils boasted one of the Northeast Conference's most potent offenses.
- In 2011, the Blue Devils led the conference and ranked 10th in the FCS in third-down conversions (45.7%). The team led the NEC and tied for fifth nationally in fewest sacks allowed (8.0), while ranking third in the conference in rushing (192.7 ypg).
- In 2010, Central Connecticut State earned a share of the NEC title with a 7-1 league record. The Blue Devils led the conference in scoring (30.2 ppg), total offense (399.5 ypg) and rushing (212.5 ypg).
- Began his coaching career as an offensive graduate assistant working with Fuente at TCU from 2007-09.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- Three-time All-Big South wide receiver at VMI from 2002-05, finished his career with 162 receptions for 2,101 yards (13.0 avg.) with 12 touchdowns.
- His 162 catches rank second in school history behind only Mark Stock (165) while his yardage tally is third in VMI history.
- Owns a share of a school record with a reception in 34 consecutive games.
- Racked up 58 catches for 742 yards and three TDs as a senior in 2005, tying as the second-best season reception total at the school. Also had 57 catches as a junior in 2004.
- Registered two games with 10 catches during his career, a mark that ties as the second-best single-game tally in VMI history, while his five 100-yard contests are the second-highest total in the VMI record book.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Talented and versatile coach enters his fifth season at Virginia Tech, his fourth coaching running backs.
- Originally joined Tech as wide receivers coach in 2015.
- Selected to participate in NFL's Bill Walsh Diversity Coaching Fellowship with the Washington Redskins during camp in July 2017 and with the Los Angeles Chargers in July 2018.
- Born and raised in the heart of the 757, Burden hails from an area that has served as a hotbed of talent for the Hokies for generations. Also owns experience coaching at Fork Union Military Academy, a school that has produced a distinguished pedigree of NFL performers.
- Oversaw the rushing quartet of RBs Steven Peoples, Deshaun McCleave, Jalen Holsten and Terius Wheatley in 2018, a foursome that combined for 332 carries for 1,626 yards (4.9 avg.) with 11 rushing TDs.
- Groomed RB Sam Rogers into a multiple-purpose offensive threat who was drafted by the L.A. Rams in 2017.
- A record-setting collegiate receiver in his own right at VMI, helped develop WR Isaiah Ford into Tech's first pass catcher to ever produce a 1,000-yard season in 2015 when he set a single-season school record with 1,164 yards, including a 12-catch, 227-yard effort in the Independence Bowl.
- Also played a role in the development of WR Cam Phillips, who caught 49 passes for 582 yards with a pair of TDs under his tutelage in 2015.
- Joined the Hokies after a three-year stint as the passing game coordinator and coaching wide receivers for Old Dominion (2012-14).
- Prior to Virginia Tech, Burden spent three seasons at Old Dominion (2012-14) in Norfolk, Virginia, where he groomed 1,000-yard wideouts such as Antonio Vaughan, Zach Pascal, Larry Pinkard and Nick Mayers.

- Old Dominion was one of 13 FBS schools in 2014 to have three players with 40 or more catches and one of 16 schools to have four players with 30 or more receptions.
- Vaughan produced his best collegiate season with 63 catches for a league-high 1,019 yards under Burden's guidance in 2014 as his 12 touchdowns tied for fourth among FCS programs.
- With Burden serving as passing game coordinator in 2013, Old Dominion ranked fourth in the FCS in scoring offense (42.3 ppg), fourth in passing offense (359.4 ypg) and seventh in total offense (519.0 ypg) as Pinkard led the squad with 68 catches for 1,020 yards.
- Helped lead the most prolific FCS offense in 2012 as the Monarchs led the nation in scoring (45.2 ppg), total offense (548.2 ypg), passing offense (393.8 ypg) and TD passes (44). Mayers tied for second among FCS performers with a school-record 16 TD catches. He also set single-season school records with 79 catches for 1,233 yards earning All-America honors from College Sports Madness and Beyond Sports Network.
- Developed WR Tre Gray into a record-setting receiver at Richmond in 2011. He earned third team All-America honors from the AP after leading the Colonial Athletic Association and setting Richmond single-season records with 95 receptions for 1,187 yards.
- Served as an integral part of one of the most successful start-up programs in recent history as Old Dominion returned to the field in 2009 after a 68-year absence.
- Joined the ODU staff as defensive backs coach in 2007, helping to build a roster from scratch as the Monarchs got on the field in 2009 and produced a 9-2 mark, the best record for a first-year program in the modern era of college football.
- Embarked on his coaching career in 2006 at Fork Union Military Academy where he coached wide receivers and defensive backs while also serving as the passing game coordinator and recruiting liaison.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- First NCAA Division II quarterback to pass for at least 4,000 yards and rush for at least 2,000 yards during his career at Missouri Southern State from 1995-98.
- Missouri Southern State Athletics Hall of Fame (2014).
- Was on the same Oklahoma roster as current Tech head coach Justin Fuente in the 1995 Oil Bowl, an annual Oklahoma vs. Texas high school summer all-star game.
- Earned Oklahoma all-state honors in football, basketball and track at Texhoma High School.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Prolific collegiate QB enters his fourth season as Tech's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach.
- Under his direction, the Hokies have produced the top three passing seasons in school history the past three seasons despite utilizing three different primary starting QBs - 261.4 ypg in 2016, 253.8 ypg in 2018 and 239.5 ypg in 2017.
- Two of the top three team seasonal totals for TD passes have also come during Cornelsen's tenure - 31 in 2016 and 29 in 2018.
- Continued his track record of tutoring productive quarterbacks as QB Ryan Willis became the third straight passer under his tutelage to register a prolific season.
- Despite not entering the starting lineup until the season's third contest in 2018, Willis threw 24 TDs, a mark that tied as the second-best in school history.
- Willis finished fourth in the ACC in passing ypg (226.3) and passer rating (137.9) and fifth in total offense (256.2 ypg). He also registered a 2.67 TD-to-INT differential (24 TDs/9 INTs), while producing three 300-yard passing games.
- Cornelsen is also credited with quickly assimilating a number of young pass catchers into Tech's offense, including WR Damon Hazelton, who led the squad with 51 catches for 802 yards and eight TDs in his initial season with the Hokies.
- QB Josh Jackson led all FBS freshman QBs by averaging 255.0 ypg of total offense in 2017, while his 59.6 completion percentage ranked second.
- Under Cornelsen's direction, Virginia Tech tied or broke 10 offensive single-season records in 2016.
- With Cornelsen calling the plays in 2016, the Hokies tied or set school bests in points (490), total TDs (61), first downs (330), passing first downs (172), TD passes (31), total offense (6,223), completion pct. (62.1%), passing yards (3,660), pass completions (279) and total plays (1,087).
- The Hokies also ranked fifth in the ACC in scoring (35.0 ppg), total offense (444.5 ypg), rushing (183.1 ypg), pass efficiency (149.8) and time of possession (31:15).
- Helped QB Jerod Evans register one of the most productive seasons of any quarterback in school annals in 2016.
- In his only season of FBS competition, Evans set eight single-season records for the Hokies, including marks for total offense (4,392), passing yards (3,546), TD passes (29), total TDs accounted for (41) and rushing yards by a QB (846).
- Along with current Tech head coach Justin Fuente, helped take a Memphis program that had gone 3-21 in the two seasons prior to their arrival to a squad that went 19-7 and earned back-to-back bowl berths in 2014-15.
- Joined Fuente in grooming unheralded two-star quarterback prospect, Paxton Lynch, into a first-round NFL Draft pick.
- During his final two campaigns for the Tigers, Lynch completed 64.8 percent (555 of 856) of his passes for 6,807 yards with 50 TDs and 13 INTs (147.9 rating).

- By contrast, in the three seasons (2009-11) prior to Lynch's arrival at Memphis, the Tigers compiled a 5-31 record, threw for 7,182 yards with 37 TDs and 36 INTs.
- Under Cornelsen's tutelage in 2015, Lynch threw for 3,776 yards, with 28 touchdowns and only four interceptions. He tied an FBS record with seven touchdown passes in the first half of Memphis' 63-0 victory over SMU.
- In 2015, Memphis finished 11th nationally in scoring offense (40.2 ppg). The Tigers also converted 48.8 percent (101 of 207) of the time to rank eighth in the FBS.
- In 2014-15, the Tigers averaged 185.0 rushing ypg and scored 60 TDs on the ground, producing 11 games with 200 or more net rushing yards.
- The Tigers set a school record for points in consecutive seasons (993 in 2014-15) and boasted a +19 turnover differential (53 takes/34 gives) over that timeframe.
- In 2014, Lynch guided the Tigers to a Miami Beach Bowl win over BYU. Lynch was the MVP after throwing four TDs and running for three more TDs, tying an FBS record for touchdowns responsible for in a bowl game.
- In 2012, Cornelsen mentored QB Jacob Karam who completed 64.2 percent (176 of 274) of his passes, while throwing 14 TDs and a school-low three INTs.
- In his final season as offensive coordinator at Northeastern State in 2011, he helped the offense become among the nation's leaders in passing offense (13th, 291 ypg) and total offense (22nd, 440 ypg).
- In 2011, Northeastern State receiver Trey McVay became a first-team All-America pick, catching 82 passes for 1,533 yards. He set a school single-season record for receiving yards. His 425-yard performance vs. Harding set an NCAA single-game record at any level for most receptions in a game. His 16 catches and six TDs in that contest also established school records.
- Landed his initial full-time coaching position at Illinois State in 2003, where Fuente also served as an assistant on the Redbirds' staff from 2001-06.
- Developed QB Luke Drone developed into an All-Gateway Conference choice at Illinois State in 2007.
- In 2005, Cornelsen helped Laurent Robinson become an All-America selection and earn conference offensive player of the year honors after he set a Missouri Valley record with 86 catches for a school-record 1,465 yards. Robinson's 292-yard game against Indiana State in 2005 still stands as a conference record.
- Robinson concluded his career at Illinois State with 192 catches for 3,007 yards with 29 TDs, a yardage total that still ranks sixth in Missouri Valley annals.
- Spent the spring of 2001 at NW Missouri State working as a graduate assistant under Hall of Fame head coach Mel Tjeerdsma before taking a similar role at Oklahoma State under head coach Les Miles.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Virginia Tech alum returned to Blacksburg in 2018 as director of player development – defense before being promoted to safeties coach in February 2019 by head coach Justin Fuente.
- A well-rounded performer on the field as a player for the Hokies, Hamilton also owns a varied background as a collegiate coach with expertise as a defensive coordinator, in addition to experience coaching special teams and linebackers, as well as a background as a strength and conditioning coordinator.
- A native of SW Virginia, Hamilton is also highly respected by high school coaches across the region, having developed valuable relationships during his previous coaching stops in Virginia and during his tenure at Tech.
- "Justin has more than proven his mettle to our staff over the past year and has earned this opportunity to take the next step in his football career," Fuente said upon promoting Hamilton. "We know how invested Justin is in the continued success of our program. He's a bright and talented coach who has built a solid rapport with our players and football staff. Coach Foster and I are both excited to expand his responsibilities with our team."

- LB Allan Crastenberg helped anchor VMI's defense under Hamilton's tutelage. Crastenberg earned Second-Team All-Southern Conference honors in 2017 after leading the Keydets with 118 tackles (57 solo) and registering three INTs with one TD.
- Another one of Hamilton's pupils, LB Ryan Francis, played a key role for VMI in 2017. Francis ranked second on the squad with 103 tackles (50 solo), while adding 2.5 sacks and 10.0 TFL.
- KR Mason Dermott earned Second-Team All-Southern Conference honors under Hamilton's guidance in 2016 after leading the Southern Conference with 978 combined kickoff and punt return yards. Dermott ranked second in the league with a 23.2-yard kickoff return average.
- With Hamilton serving as defensive coordinator in 2012, UVA-Wise held five opponents to 24 points or fewer, including a 24-21 OT win over nationally-ranked Bethel College.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Veteran coach and former NFL player enters his fourth season with Virginia Tech as cornerbacks coach.
- Groomed a trio of young corners in Caleb Farley, Bryce Watts and Jovonn Quillen in 2018. That group entered the season owning no games of collegiate starting experience and by season's end, that trio combined to start every game at corner for the Hokies.
- Farley registered a pair of INTs in his collegiate debut at Florida State in 2018, earning ACC Defensive Back of the Week honors and was an Honorable Mention Selection for the Mayo Clinic Comeback Player of the Year Award after missing the 2017 season due to injury.
- Watts also proved his mettle in 2017, missing just one start due to a broken forearm that was surgically repaired.
- Thanks to a trio of talented corners in All-ACC First Team selection Greg Stroman, along with Brandon Facyson and Adonis Alexander, no FBS team allowed a lower completion percentage (48.60%) than Tech in 2017.
- Tech's stingy 2017 defense ranked second in the nation on third down (26.2%), fourth in scoring defense (14.8 ppg) and fifth in first downs allowed (290).
- Quickly made an impact on Tech's secondary in 2016 as the Hokies boasted the fifth-lowest opponent completion percentage in the nation (50.1) and ranked 10th with a 111.1 opponent passer rating. Only Michigan (21.0%) permitted a lower third-down percentage than Virginia Tech (27.5%).
- Served as defense coordinator and secondary coach for Ruffin McNeill at East Carolina from 2010-12 after working with McNeill on the defensive staff at Texas Tech.
- During his distinguished coaching career, has been a member of staffs that have won five conference titles and made 14 bowl appearances.
- 11 of his defensive backs have gone on to sign professional contracts.
- In 2015, WVU's defense led all Power Five schools by forcing 23 interceptions and ranked second with 31 total takeaways. Mitchell's cornerbacks accounted for 11 of those INTs, finishing the year with 28 pass breakups. The Mountaineers finished the year with a +9 turnover margin (31 takes/22 gives) to rank 15th among FBS squads.
- Daryl Worley tied for third among Power Five players with six interceptions and was eighth among FBS performers with 12 passes defended.
- The Mountaineers also finished eighth among FBS squads in highest percentage of opponent three downs and out in 2011, while ranking No. 11 among Power Five squads in third-down defense (31.7%).

- In 2014, WVU's defense was eighth among Power Five teams in third-down defense (31.4%) and were No. 15 among FBS squads in terms of forcing three-and-outs. The Mountaineers also ranked No. 18 among Power Five teams in opposing passer efficiency (116.2).
- In 2013, WVU's defense was No. 4 among FBS squads with 16 fumbles recovered and ranked 14th among Power Five squads with 28 turnovers forced.
- In 2012, East Carolina tied UCF for first place in the Eastern Division of Conference USA with a 7-1 league record and made its second bowl appearance in three years with Mitchell serving as DC and secondary coach.
- Spearheaded the installation of a 3-4 scheme in 2011, an alignment that produced immediate results and earned ECU a reputation as one of most improved units nationally as the Pirates allowed 947 total net yards and 185 fewer points than the previous season.
- Tutored cornerback Emanuel Davis to back-to-back All-Conference USA selections and developed Damon Magazu into a ball-hawking free safety who led the team with four INTs and three fumble recoveries in 2011.
- Accompanied McNeill to East Carolina after a four-season stint at Texas Tech.
- Jamar Wall led the secondary with 62 tackles and two interceptions in 2008 and earned All-Big 12 honors in 2009 after ranking second nationally with 17 PDs.
- The Red Raiders pass defense led the Big 12 Conference in net passing yards in both 2006 and 2007. In 2007, Texas Tech limited foes to 188.4 ypg in that department, a figure that ranked 13th among FBS squads.
- Worked on the staff of legendary coach LaVell Edwards at BYU after a stellar playing career for the Cougars.
- Helped guide the team to five bowl appearances and a No. 5 national ranking following a 14-1 campaign in 1996, as well as back-to-back Western Athletic Conference championships.
- While at BYU, he also served as the faculty advisor to the Black Student Union from 1995-02.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- A seventh-round draft choice of Atlanta in the 1991 NFL Draft, played in 36 games over three seasons for the Falcons.
- All-WAC cornerback who played in four bowls and ran the opening leg of BYU's All-America 400M relay team.
- Still holds the school record for the longest interception return, a 97-yard effort against New Mexico in 1989.
- His 13 career interceptions stand fifth in the school's record book, while his five picks in 1989 were a season high.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Regarded as one of the nation's top special teams coaches, enters his fourth season serving as special teams coordinator and tight ends coach at Virginia Tech.
- Added another chapter to Tech's legacy of special teams excellence in 2018, scoring two TDs on blocked punts.
- Mentored a pair of All-ACC selections in 2018 - P Oscar Bradburn (Third Team) and TE Dalton Keene (Hon. Mention).
- Tech ranked sixth among FBS squads in 2018, permitting 350 combined punt and kickoff return yards, while K Jordan Stout ranked fourth in the nation in touchback percentage on kickoffs (84.5%).
- Was named the 2017 Special Teams Coach of the Year by FootballScoop.com.
- Tech's special teams enjoyed a phenomenal season in 2017, tying for the FBS lead with five blocked punts and tying for second in the nation with eight total blocked kicks.
- The Hokies led all Power Five squads in 2017 by permitting 335 combined punt and kickoff return yards. Tech ranked fifth in the nation, registering 59 touchbacks on kickoffs, while only two teams permitted fewer KO returns.
- The Hokies' punt return team ranked second among FBS squads with 413 punt return yards in 2017, including a pair of TDs by CB Greg Stroman.
- Successfully integrated Australian punter Oscar Bradburn into the Hokies' special teams in 2017, a player who had never played American football until enrolling at Virginia Tech.
- In 2016, VT blocked a punt and three field goals, while returning both a punt and a blocked field goal for touchdowns.
- K Joey Slye (2016-17) played his final two seasons under Shibest, departing Blacksburg with VT career records for scoring (403 points) and made FGs (78).
- Slye led all ACC kickers and set a single-season Tech record for a kicker with 118 points in 2016, as he hit 20 of 27 FGs (74.1%) and converted 58 PATs.
- Slye also set a Tech single-game record with 21 points in a 39-36 win at Pitt (10/27/16) as he tied an ACC record with six made FGs in the contest.
- Bucky Hodges thrived in a hybrid TE/WR role in 2016, setting career highs with 48 catches for 691 yards, while tying a career mark with seven TDs.
- His 2015 Memphis squad ranked seventh in the country in overall special teams efficiency via Football Outsiders, while his 2014 unit was the best in the FBS according to ESPN.
- Memphis was the only collegiate program to have a semifinalist for both the Ray Guy Award and the Lou Groza Award in 2014.
- A three-time Groza Award semifinalist, Elliott connected on 76.9 percent (60 of 78) of his FGs the past three seasons under Shibest with eight makes from 50 or more yards, including a school-record 56-yard FG at South Florida (11/16/13).
- Elliott established Memphis records in 2015 with 23 made field goals and 132 points. He connected on 82.1 percent (23 of 28) FGs and nailed all 63 of his PATs.
- Special teams coverage units coached by Shibest haven't allowed a kick return or punt return TD over the past seven seasons. His squads ranked among the nation's top 10 in net kickoff coverage three of the past six years.
- Memphis ranked fourth among FBS squads in punt coverage in 2014, allowing 2.77 yards per return.
- Memphis WR Keiwone Malone concluded his collegiate career with a school-record 83 punt returns for 716 yards, a figure that ranked as the fourth-highest tally in school history.
- In 2013, Shibest coached the nation's best punter, Tom Hornsey, who earned the Ray Guy Award and ranked seventh nationally with a 45.2-yard gross average.

- Memphis led Conference USA in kickoff coverage with a net average of 42.6 yards in 2013.
- Freshman tight end Alan Cross led Memphis with five TD catches in 2012 and was named to the All-Conference USA Freshman Team.
- Spent four seasons at Ole Miss, where he coached an NCAA statistical champion, four All-SEC honorees and two freshman award winners highlighted Shibest's special teams accomplishments.
- Tutored the top two kick returners in Ole Miss history in Mike Wallace and Jesse Grandy.
- In 2011, the Rebels ranked second nationally and led the SEC in punt returns with a 15.6-yard average.
- Kicker Joshua Shene wrapped up his career at Ole Miss second in career scoring (310), field goals (57), field goal attempts (75), PATs made (139) and PATs attempted (142).
- In his first season with the Rebels in 2008, Shibest was honored as the Special Teams Coordinator of the Year by FootballScoop.com.
- Shibest groomed running back Felix Jones into the SEC Special Teams Player of the Year at Arkansas in 2007.
- Spent eight seasons as Arkansas (2000-07), where he coached special teams and had stints tutoring tight ends (2000-01, 2006-07) and receivers (2002-05).
- Led Butler County (Kansas) Community College to a four-year record of 34-10 and back-to-back National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) championships in 1998 and 1999.
- Named the NJCAA Coach of the Year both seasons, and he also earned Jayhawk Conference Coach of the Year honors in 1996 and 1998.
- During his tenure at Butler County, Shibest coached 19 NJCAA All-Americans and 34 NCAA Division I signees, including Ricky Hall who registered 12 touchdowns for Tech in 1998-99 as a receiver and return man.
- Led the Grizzlies to records of 7-4 in 1996, 4-5 in 1997, 12-0 in 1998 and 11-1 in 1999.
- In two seasons at Garden City (Kan.) Community College he helped the Bronco Busters to a 10-1 record in 1994 and a 9-2 mark in 1995 with an offense that ranked sixth in the NJCAA.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- Prep All-American receiver at Houston's MacArthur High School earned All-Southwest Conference honors at Arkansas in 1984 and 1986, amassing a then-school-record 1,920 receiving yards on 97 receptions, including 10 touchdowns.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- Two-year starter at Oklahoma State who saw duty at both defensive tackle and tight end.
- Blocked for a pair of Pro Football Hall of Fame running backs in Thurman Thomas and Barry Sanders.
- Was also a teammate of current Oklahoma State head coach, Mike Gundy (1986-89).

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Veteran o-line coach enters his fourth season at Tech.
- Another longtime associate of head coach Justin Fuente, their relationship dates back to 1999 when Vice served as offensive line coach at Murray State and Fuente was the Racers' quarterback. The duo later coached together at Illinois State before reuniting at Memphis.
- Thanks to Vice's blocking unit providing protection for Tech passers, the Hokies have registered the top three seasons in school history in terms of passing yards per game over the past three seasons.
- T Christian Darrisaw started 12 games at left tackle in 2018, becoming one of only nine FBS true freshman to start the opening game at that spot. He also earned a spot on ESPN's Midseason Freshman All-America Team.
- G Wyatt Teller earned All-ACC First-Team honors under his tutelage in 2017, while C Eric Gallo was an honorable mention pick.
- Thanks to the protection of Vice's blocking unit QB Josh Jackson led all FBS freshmen at his position, averaging 255.0 ypg of total offense in 2017.
- Under Vice's direction in 2016, G Augie Conte and T Jon McLaughlin both earned third-team All-ACC honors as Tech's offense set or tied 10 single-season school records.
- Thanks to the protection of Vice's unit in 2016, QB Jerod Evans also enjoyed a prolific campaign, setting single-season VT records for total offense (4,392), passing yards (3,546) and rushing yards by a QB (846).
- Fuente's "Hard, Smart, Tough" mantra is personified in Vice, who played collegiately as a defensive lineman and tight end at Oklahoma State in the 1980s.
- During his final two campaigns at Memphis, the Tigers compiled a 19-7 record and allowed a conference-low 32.0 sacks, cutting that sack total in half compared to the 64.0 sacks Memphis allowed in the two years prior to his arrival in 2010-11. The Tigers also set a school record, scoring 993 points over that two-season period.
- The Tigers permitted a mere 17.0 sacks in 2015 as only nine teams in the Power Five permitted fewer. Memphis allowed 16.0 sacks in 2014, a total that ranked 15th among FBS squads.
- The rapid development of a blocking unit to protect QB Paxton Lynch allowed the Memphis passer to complete 64.8 percent (555 of 856) of his passes for 6,807 yards with 50 touchdowns and 13 interceptions, good for a 147.9 rating during the 2014-15 seasons. By contrast, Memphis registered only 24 TD passes during the 2010 and 2011 seasons combined.

- The Memphis ground game also prospered thanks to Vice's blocking unit. In 2014-15, the Tigers averaged 185.0 rushing ypg and recorded 60 rushing TDs after averaging a 87.8 rushing ypg and scoring 15 rushing TDs in 2010-11.
- To put the ascent of the Memphis rushing game in additional perspective, Vice and the offensive staff inherited a squad that averaged 84.0 rushing ypg in 2011. The only FBS program that ran for fewer yards per game was Miami (Ohio) at 73.8 ypg.
- During the 2015 campaign, Memphis scored 40.2 ppg to rank 11th among FBS squads, while coming in 18th in passing offense (307.5 ypg) and 19th in total offense (486.9 ypg). The Tigers also ranked eight among FBS squads on third down, converting on 48.8 percent (101 of 207) of their opportunities.
- Prior to rejoining Fuente at Memphis, Vice spent three seasons at Louisiana-Monroe (2009-11) where his offensive front paved the way for 21 rushing scores in 2009 and 22 rushing TDs in 2011. The Warhawks amassed 392.3 ypg of total offense in 2009, the program's highest offensive output since joining the FBS.
- RB Frank Goodin finished the 2009 season with 1,126 rushing yards, good for the fourth-highest seasonal total in school history, while his 13 TDs were the second-best mark in Louisiana-Monroe history as the squad averaged 183.9 rushing ypg.
- The Warhawks were tied for 21st in the FBS by permitting 16.0 sacks in 2009.
- During Vice's four seasons at Utah State, a quartet of his offensive linemen earned All-Western Athletic Conference (WAC) honors including Ryan Tonnemacher who was a two-time Rimington Trophy Watch List nominee at center.
- Enjoyed a five-year stint at Illinois State as offensive line coach with additional responsibilities as assistant head coach.
- Three of Vice's linemen earned All-America honors and eight garnered All-Gateway Conference accolades at Illinois State. In 2003, the Redbirds established a school record with 248.1 yards per game rushing and allowed just 5.0 sacks on 367 pass attempts, tying as the fifth-lowest tally among FCS squads.
- Spent three seasons as tight ends coach at Clemson under head coach Tommy West from 1996-98.
- Began his coaching career as a graduate assistant under Ray Goff at Georgia before spending three seasons in the Georgia high school coaching ranks.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

• Wiles won Kodak Division I-AA All-America honors as an offensive lineman at Murray State in 1986 playing under Frank Beamer, who served as the Racers' head coach.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Enters his 24th season coaching Virginia Tech's defensive line, making him the second-longest tenured member of the Virginia Tech staff behind only associate head coach/defensive coordinator Bud Foster who joined Tech in 1987.
- The productivity and consistency of Virginia Tech's defensive front have been hallmarks of Tech's vaunted "Lunch Pail Defense" over the years, thanks in large part to Wiles.
- Dating back to 1996 when Wiles began his tenure coaching Tech's defensive line, the Hokies have registered 856.0 sacks, the highest total of any team in the nation over that span.
- The Hokies also own the best mark of any FBS squad on third down since 1996, limiting opponents to a 31.5-percent conversion rate. Only Michigan (26.1%) ranked better in that department than Virginia Tech (26.2%) in 2017.
- The ability of Wiles' linemen to put pressure on the passer also helps explain why Virginia Tech has forced an FBS-best 380 interceptions during his tenure in Blacksburg. In 2017, Tech led all FBS squads, limiting opponents to a completion percentage of a mere 48.60 percent.
- With Wiles helping Foster devise schemes to stop the run, Tech has permitted an average of 120.9 rushing ypg dating back to 1996 to rank seventh nationally.
- Since he joined Tech as defensive line coach, only Alabama (16.3 ppg) and Ohio State (17.0 ppg) own stingier scoring defenses than Virginia Tech (18.1 ppg).
- DT Ricky Walker earned All-ACC Second Team honors in 2018 and was an Honorable Mention pick in 2017.
- DT Tim Settle (ACC Second Team) was selected in the fifth round of the 2018 NFL Draft by the Washington Redskins.
- Former pupils DT Woody Baron (Dallas), DE Ken Ekanem (Denver) and DT Nigel Williams (Buffalo) all signed as NFL free agents in 2017.
- Has coached five All-America selections – Cornell Brown (1995 & 1996), Corey Moore (1998 & 1999), John Engelberger (1999), Darryl Tapp (2005) and David Pugh (2001).
- The most highly-decorated member of that group was Moore, who became the first-ever Tech defender to earn unanimous All-America honors in 1999.
- Moore also earned the 1999 Bronco Nagurski Award as the college football's defensive player of the year while also taking home the Lombardi Award as the national lineman of the year as the Hokies tied for the national lead with 58.0 sacks and advanced to the national championship game.
- Under his tutelage, 26 different Virginia Tech defensive linemen have earned all-conference honors. In 2015, Luther Maddy (second team), Dadi Nicolas (third team) and Corey Marshall (honorable mention) continued Wiles' trend of producing All-ACC performers as Tech extended its string of consecutive bowl berths to 23 straight years.

- In 2014, his linemen helped contribute 26.0 sacks as the Hokies ranked second among Power Five squads with 48.0 sacks.
- Behind second-team All-ACC pick, Derrick Hopkins, Tech ranked 10th nationally in rushing defense (110.9 ypg) and tied for eighth with 39.0 sacks in 2013 as all four starting linemen were represented on an All-ACC squad.
- His front was part of a 2011 defense that ranked seventh in the country in scoring defense (17.6 ppg) and 10th in total defense (304.6 ypg).
- Tech claimed the ACC title in 2010 as the Hokies led the nation with a +19 turnover differential (32 takes/13 gives) and ranked second among FBS squads with 23 INTs.
- In 2006, Virginia Tech led the nation in scoring defense (11.0 ppg), total defense (219.5 ypg) and pass defense (128.2 ypg).
- Wiles' 2005 defensive line was led by first-team All-America Darryl Tapp who helped Tech lead the nation in total defense (247.6 ypg) and rank second in the nation in scoring defense (12.9 ppg).
- Tech won the ACC title during its debut season in 2004 when its defense ranked second nationally in scoring defense (12.8 ppg) and came in fourth in both total defense (268.0 ypg) and pass defense (152.8 ypg).
- The Sporting News ranked Tech's 2001 defensive line coached by Wiles as the fourth-best in the nation.
- In 1999, Corey Moore was chosen the BIG EAST Defensive Player of the Year for a second consecutive year as The Sporting News rated Tech's defensive front the best in the college football as the Hokies rattled off an undefeated regular season behind the nation's stingiest scoring defense (10.5 ppg).
- Under Wiles' guidance, one-time walk-on John Engelberger earned All-BIG EAST honors in both 1997 and 1998 before earning second team All-America honors from the AP in 1999.
- Wiles embarked on his two-decade career coaching the defensive line at Tech in 1996 when his star pupil was All-America defensive end Cornell Brown.
- As co-defensive coordinator at Murray State in 1995, he helped lead the Racers to an 11-0 regular-season mark and a berth in the Division I-AA playoffs.
- Originally began his coaching career as a graduate assistant for the Hokies in 1987, Frank Beamer's first season as Tech's head coach.
- Is one of three former Murray State players on the current Tech coaching staff, joining head coach Justin Fuente and associate head coach/defensive coordinator, Bud Foster.

- Team captain caught 38 passes for 560 yards with eight TDs playing in a Wing-T offense as a high school senior. Added three INTs on defense and also lettered in track.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Former ACC wide receiver joined Virginia Tech as the squad's wide receivers coach on Jan. 26, 2019.
- Joins several other members of the current Tech coaching staff who previously spent time on Denver Johnson's staff at Illinois State, including head coach Justin Fuente, as well as offensive coordinator/QBs coach Brad Cornelsen and offensive line coach Vance Vice.
- "I knew the qualities we wanted in an assistant coach and recruiter to fill this position," Fuente said upon hiring Williams. "Jafar possesses familiarity with our offensive philosophy, as well as our coaching style and expectations. Jafar has been through the recruiting process as a player and a student-athlete and has built solid relationships across our region. He has also paid his dues in the coaching ranks, gained experience in a variety of different positions during his career. We're excited about him joining our coaching staff at Virginia Tech."
- Williams arrives in Blacksburg after spending the 2018 campaign coaching running backs at his alma mater, the University of Maryland.
- During his coaching stint with the Terrapins he mentored a prolific rushing duo as Anthony McFarland (7.9) and Ty Johnson (7.7) ranked second and third respectively in the Big Ten in yards-per-carry average in 2018.
- Under Williams' tutelage, McFarland led Maryland in rushing with 131 carries for 1,034 yards, breaking the school's freshman rushing yardage record.
- Owning a diverse coaching background, Williams coached wide receivers at Rutgers in 2016-17. In 2016, WR Jawuan Harris led all Big Ten freshmen with 39 catches for 481 yards.
- As running backs at Purdue (2013-15), he helped RB Markell Jones set the school's freshman rushing record with 875 yards in 2015. His 72.9 yards-per-game rushing average ranked eighth in the Big Ten, while his 10 rushing TDs led the Boilermakers.
- In 2014, RB Akeem Hunt led Purdue with 949 rushing yards and ranked eighth in the Big Ten by averaging 79.1 rushing ypg under Williams' tutelage.

- After a one-year stint as special teams quality control coach for Pat Fitzgerald at Northwestern (2010), he spent two seasons as running backs coach at Kent State (2011-12). The Golden Flashes went 11-3 in 2012 and earned the MAC's East Division title with an 8-0 conference record.
- Williams coached one of the nation's most productive rushing duos in RBs Dri Archer and Traylon Durham, who combined to rush for 2,745 yards and 30 touchdowns for Kent State in 2012.
- Archer led Kent State with 1,429 rushing yards and also hauled in a team-high 39 receptions for 561 yards with four touchdowns, while returning 16 kickoffs for 591 yards with three TDs to earn consensus All-America honors.
- Durham finished with 1,316 rushing yards and 14 touchdowns, as the team ranked 18th nationally in rushing offense (225.8 ypg).
- In 2009, he coached wide receivers at Howard University, where WR Willie Carter earned second-team All-Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference acclaim after leading the Bison with 46 catches for 630 yards with a team-high six total TDs.
- Enjoyed a two-year stint as wide receivers coach at Illinois State (2007-08), where WR Eyad Salem earned first-team All-Missouri Valley Conference honors in 2008 after leading the squad with 63 catches for 843 yards and eight TDs.
- WR Jason Horton received second-team All-MVC accolades under his tutelage at Illinois State in 2017 after he and Salem combined for 71 catches for 1,037 yards and eight TD catches.
- Began his coaching career as passing game coordinator/wide receivers coach at Moravian College in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania in 2005, helping guide the squad to its first-ever conference title.
- Graduated from Maryland with a degree in health and human performance.

Football Staff

PIERSON PRIOLEAU

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT — DEFENSE

Pierson Prioleau returned to Blacksburg in June 2019 as Director of Player Development — Defense. A first-team All-BIG EAST selection and a team captain for Frank Beamer as a senior in 1998, Prioleau played an integral role in helping Tech establish itself as a national football power in the 1990s. A four-year letterwinner for the Hokies, the Alvin, South Carolina native enjoyed a 12-year NFL career and earned a Super Bowl XLIV ring with the New Orleans Saints.

Prioleau has served as defensive coordinator at Radford High School since his retirement from the NFL in 2011. He has also worked as a health and physical education instructor at Belle Heth Elementary School in Radford since 2015. He owns a degree in Interdisciplinary Studies from Virginia Tech. He also participated in the NFL Business Management and Entrepreneurial Program at Northwestern University in 2006 and served a Bill Walsh Minority Coaching Fellowship with the St. Louis Rams in 1994.

Inducted as part of the ACC Football Legends Class of 2012, Prioleau was a three-year starter for Beamer and Bud Foster, totaling 237 career tackles and had two kick return touchdowns. He was named first-team All-Big East as a junior in 1997 and earned third-team All-America honors from The Sporting News. As a senior, he led a defense that was first in the BIG EAST in scoring defense, allowing just 12.9 points per game.

A fourth-round selection of the San Francisco 49ers in the 1999 NFL Draft, Prioleau played in 160 career regular season games (50 starts) with San Francisco (1999-00), Buffalo (2001-04), Washington (2005-07), Jacksonville (2008) and New Orleans (2009-10), accumulating 446 total tackles (348 solo), one interception, one safety and four fumble recoveries.

He and his wife, Alcia, are parents of sons PJ, Pace and Parker.

DANIELLE BARTELSTEIN

SENIOR DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

Danielle Bartelstein is in her fourth season as the senior director of football operations for football head coach Justin Fuente. She oversees the daily administrative and operational duties within Virginia Tech's football program, the handling of team travel, and other assorted responsibilities. She is the only female working in such a role among Power 5 schools and one of just a handful in the FBS.

The Chicago native came to Tech after working for a year as a senior advisor for Hance Scarborough, LLP, a prestigious law firm in Austin, Texas, where she assisted in the overall management for the former U.S. Congressman and Chancellor Emeritus at Texas Tech University. Bartelstein served as the director of football relations at Texas Tech from 2013-15. She was responsible for the day-to-day recruiting operations. This included coordinating all official and unofficial visits, developing seasonal recruiting campaigns, as well as evaluating and organizing all off-campus recruiting activities.

Bartelstein worked at TCU as the assistant director of football operations (2010-12) under head coach Gary Patterson. While at TCU, she worked with Fuente, who served as the quarterbacks coach and co-offensive coordinator at the time. Her first stop in college football occurred at Stanford, where she worked as a volunteer for then-head coach Jim Harbaugh. She helped with summer camps and game-day logistics.

Her grandfather, Steve Reid, was an All-America lineman at Northwestern during the 1930s and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1985. When she went to Illinois, where she received her undergraduate degree, she volunteered to help with the football program — her first step toward a career in the sport.

MATT TRANSUE ASST. DIRECTOR, FOOTBALL OPS/DIRECTOR PRO SCOUTING

Matt Transue enters his fourth year on the Virginia Tech football staff, serving as the assistant director of football operations and director of pro scouting. Transue is responsible for assisting in the day-to-day operations of the Hokies' operation and recruiting departments. He also supports the planning and execution of team travel and onboarding of new enrollees.

He assists with recruiting visits (unofficial & official), database management, graphic design for the program's social media channels and other general duties as assigned. He also serves as the team's pro liaison to the NFL, coordinating all NFL personnel visits and Virginia Tech's annual Pro Day.

Transue worked with Fuente and many members of his staff as a recruiting volunteer at the University of Memphis during the 2015 season. While in Memphis, he also worked as an account executive in the ticket office of the Memphis Redbirds, the Triple-A affiliate of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Brentwood, California native, is a graduate of the University of Tennessee, with an undergraduate degree and a master's degree in sport management. While at Tennessee, he served as a student assistant, and later a graduate assistant, in the football recruiting and operations departments from 2010-15.

He and his wife Amy were married in July 2019.

Player Personnel

MARK DIETHORN DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Mark Diethorn (pronounced DEE-thorn) enters his second season at his alma mater. Previously, he spent six seasons at Pitt as director of recruiting.

The Belle Vernon, Pennsylvania native began his tenure at Pitt as a recruiting assistant in 2012. He took on additional responsibilities when Pat Narduzzi was named head coach in 2015 when he was promoted to director of recruiting. In that role he was responsible for planning and executing all prospect visits, as well as planning and executing all aspects of Pitt's recruiting and personnel strategy. Following his promotion by Narduzzi, the Panthers signed their best recruiting class in eight years according to Rivals and ESPN.

Diethorn served as a scouting and player personnel intern with the Pittsburgh Steelers during their 2017 training camp. Under the direction of general manager Kevin Colbert, Diethorn evaluated college prospects for the Steelers' player personnel department. While at Pitt he played a role in helping acquire 14 players who would go on to play in the National Football League. That group includes NFL Draft draftees such as WR Tyler Boyd, RB James Conner, G Dorian Johnson, DB Avonte Maddox, QB Nathan Peterman, T Brian O'Neill and DB Jordan Whitehead.

Prior to his stint at Pitt, Diethorn worked as a football recruiting assistant at the University of Florida from 2009-10. He assisted the Gators' coaching staff during recruiting periods and handling campus visits, in addition to managing Florida's recruiting database.

He contributed to the signing of two top-12 recruiting classes, including the Gators' 2010 class that was ranked No. 1 nationally by Scout and ESPN.

Diethorn holds a Master's degree in sport management from Florida and an MBA from Pitt. He earned his B.S. in business information technology from Virginia Tech in 2007 and also owns experience working in the private sector, including an appointment as a business analyst for PNC Financial Group.

JOHN IEZZI

DIRECTOR, ON-CAMPUS RECRUITING

John Iezzi (pronounced YET-zee) enters his third season working on a full-time basis in player personnel for the Hokies. He has served as a graduate assistant since June 2015 after working as a student recruiting assistant during his senior year at Tech.

He is responsible for Tech's prospect database, hosting and planning official/unofficial visits, producing recruiting materials and assisting with social media efforts.

During his time as an undergraduate, he worked as a baseball agent for Caradonna Sports and Entertainment for three years, a grassroots firm that he founded with two other individuals to assist in the representation of 11 minor league baseball players.

The Richmond, Virginia native is a graduate of Deep Run High School and earned a degree from Tech in finance in 2015.

JOSH BOST DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL VIDEO AND TECHNOLOGY

Josh Bost enters his fourth season as the director of football video and technology. In his position, he manages all facets of the football video department. That includes the Hokies' new virtual reality technology, a nearly $100,000 investment that serves as a teaching tool for Tech's players.

Bost's list of duties also includes budgeting, ordering, researching, and maintaining the Hokies' XOS Technology, a system utilized by many NFL teams and one that gives the coaching staff a wealth of information in a matter of seconds. In addition, Bost and his staff coordinate, record, and edit all video from practices, games, opponent's games and recruiting for each coach to review and breakdown. Bost came to Virginia Tech from Memphis, where he had worked on Justin Fuente's staff as the video coordinator since August 2013.

Prior to working at Memphis, Bost worked at North Texas for nine years as the director of video operations. He graduated from Middle Tennessee State in 2003 and worked in that office as both a student and graduate assistant before moving to North Texas.

Bost and wife Holly have two children — a son, Micah, and a daughter, Lizzie.

ADAM BROOKS DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL EQUIPMENT SERVICES

Adam Brooks enters his second season at Virginia Tech as the Director of Football Equipment Services.

Before arriving in Blacksburg, Brooks spent three years at Georgia Southern, working as the head equipment manager for two years before being promoted to director of equipment services his last year in Statesboro. He was responsible for all aspects of operating an NCAA equipment facility, including budgeting, purchasing, ordering and keeping inventory.

Prior to his assignment with Georgia Southern, Brooks served five years at the United States Military Academy beginning his tenure as an assistant equipment manager in 2010. He later served as the head equipment manager for Army men's and women's basketball, while assisting with football at West Point.

During his tenure at Army, he volunteered for three East-West Shrine All-Star games, as well as assisting this past year with the game. The game is a college football all-star matchup held annually in St. Petersburg, Florida, allowing recently graduated players and early entries to showcase their skills to scouts in preparation for the NFL Draft.

Brooks graduated from Marshall University with a business administration degree and served as a student equipment manager for four years before beginning work on a master's degree in sports administration while working as a graduate student equipment manager in Huntington.

Brooks is a certified member of the Athletic Equipment Manager Association (AEMA). Brooks and his wife, Jada, have two children — a son, Hudson, and a daughter, Elin.

BEN HILGART

ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR FOR STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

VIRGINIA TECH
SPORTS SCIENCE TEAM

SPORT PSYCHOLOGY • STRENGTH & CONDITIONING
NUTRITION • SPORTS MEDICINE

Ben Hilgart enters his fourth season as associate AD for strength and conditioning at Virginia Tech. He works directly with head coach Justin Fuente and the football program after joining the Hokies in January 2016.

Named a Master Strength and Conditioning Coach by the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association—the highest given in the profession—Hilgart owns an impressive resume. He has trained numerous players who have gone on to play in the NFL during his previous stints at New Mexico, Arizona State, Ohio State and UTEP. In his seven years at Arizona State, 10 players earned first-team all-conference recognition, including tight end Zach Miller, who would go on to earn All-America honors in 2006.

Hilgart oversees the Hokies' entire football strength and conditioning program, which includes all phases of strength, conditioning, rehabilitation, and injury prevention.

Before coming to Tech, Hilgart spent four seasons at New Mexico, including the past two as the director of athletic performance. He was in charge of the entire athletics performance initiative for the Lobos and he was also responsible for a redesign of the Athletic Performance Center, revamping the area into one of the top performance centers in the West.

Prior to working at New Mexico, Hilgart spent seven years at Arizona State, which included the final four seasons as the head sports performance coach. He worked directly with the Sun Devils' football program in addition to overseeing the sports performance programs for all 20 of Arizona State's sports.

Before arriving at Arizona State, Hilgart spent two seasons at Ohio State. He started as the assistant strength and conditioning coach before being promoted to associate strength and conditioning coach. He also spent two years at UTEP as the graduate assistant strength and conditioning coach. He served as the head strength coach and assistant defensive line coach at his alma mater, Western Illinois, in 2001.

Hilgart was a two-year letterman at Western Illinois, earning his bachelor's degree in physical education in 2001, and he earned his master's degree in kinesiology from UTEP in 2003. Hilgart also once served as the head strength coach at Deer Valley High School in Glendale, Arizona.

Hilgart and wife Jamie have two daughters, Riley and Reagan.

ANTHONY CROSBY
SENIOR DIRECTOR

Anthony Crosby is in his fourth season as a member of the Virginia Tech strength and conditioning staff. Crosby came to Blacksburg from Ole Miss, where he spent four seasons as the assistant strength and conditioning coach for football and served in a similar role to his current one.

Prior to working at Ole Miss, the Lafayette, Louisiana native spent two seasons working with the football program at Boston College, where he assisted with program design, freshman and transfer orientation, and the designing of injured player rehabilitation workouts.

Before achieving a full-time position, Crosby worked internships at Arizona State and LSU, where he helped with the football programs along with Olympic sports such as baseball, volleyball, softball, track and field and wrestling.

Crosby played football at Louisiana Tech and graduated with a degree in kinesiology in 2008. He and his wife Colby have two sons, Brody & A.J.

RYAN SHUMAN DIRECTOR

Ryan Shuman enters his seventh season as a member of the Virginia Tech strength and conditioning staff, working under the direction of Ben Hilgart, associate AD for strength and conditioning.

He graduated from Virginia Tech in 2008 after serving as a three-year starter for the Hokies. He started at left guard as a redshirt freshman before being moved to center for his final two seasons.

A former graduate assistant in the strength and conditioning department, he received his master's degree in curriculum and instruction in 2012 and moved into a full-time role with the strength and conditioning department shortly thereafter.

The Fork Union, Virginia native attended Fork Union High School. His father serves as the head football coach of the Fork Union postgraduate team. Shuman and his wife Meredith live in Salem with their son, John.

KODY COOKE
ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR

Kody Cooke is in his second season as a member of the Virginia Tech strength and conditioning staff. He previously spent four years at Arizona State where he started as a graduate assistant in January 2013 and worked his way up to becoming a sports performance assistant coach. In 2017, Cooke led all warm up and speed and agility sessions for the Sun Devil football program, in addition to concentrating on the development of the squad's offensive linemen.

Prior to his tenure in Tempe, Cooke was a strength and conditioning intern at the Tulsa, his alma mater. He also worked with Dynamic Sports Development, also in Tulsa.

Cooke was a two-time letterwinner as an offensive lineman at Tulsa after beginning his playing career at the University of Oklahoma. Current Tech wide receivers coach Holmon Wiggins was on the Hurricanes' coaching staff while Cooke was a player.

Cooke earned his Master's degree in higher and post-secondary education from Arizona State and his bachelor's from Tulsa in exercise sports science. He and his wife, Nikki, reside in Christiansburg.

BRAD MINTER
ASSISTANT DIRECTOR

Brad Minter enters his first season as an assistant director for football strength and conditioning.

Minter spent the spring of 2018 at Mercer where he was a strength and conditioning graduate assistant. At Mercer, he designed and conducted daily training programs for men's and women's soccer and track and field while assisting football and multiple other sports.

Prior to working at Mercer, Minter gained valuable knowledge and experience in two SEC weight rooms. The Hueytown, Ala. native started at the collegiate level at South Carolina, where he worked directly with the football program, before heading to LSU for the 2017 football season. In Baton Rouge, Minter also assisted the men's and women's basketball programs, tennis, golf, volleyball, softball and baseball.

Minter earned his degree in health science from Furman University in 2017 where he was also a member of the football team.

Virginia Tech Helmet Lab

- When Stefan Duma’s research team installed impact sensors in the helmets of Virginia Tech’s varsity football players in 2003, it launched the nation’s first field-based study of head impacts in collegiate football.
- The data revealed a clearer picture of what players actually experience on the field, and eventually led to the development by Duma and his coworkers of the Virginia Tech Helmet Ratings, an evidence-based five-star system that gives consumers an unbiased assessment of which helmets reduce concussion risk most effectively.
- The Virginia Tech Helmet Lab, founded by Duma and now run by associate professor of biomedical engineering and mechanics Steve Rowson, has since expanded the five-star rating system to cover an even broader pool of athletes: the group now rates protective headgear for hockey, soccer, cycling, and youth football, in addition to varsity football.

- The work has shifted the way consumers purchase helmets and given companies a new tool to inform safety-conscious design; in fact, ratings for football and hockey helmets have improved dramatically since the system’s introduction.
- Impact data gathered during games and practices is also transmitted instantaneously to the sidelines, alerting trainers and sports physicians to potentially dangerous blows. That has facilitated quicker evaluation and treatment of injured athletes and new research on biomarkers that could help diagnose concussion.
- Duma’s team leads Virginia Tech’s participation in a landmark national study of concussions in college athletes and military personnel. The multi-university project, sponsored by the NCAA and the U.S. Department of Defense, is now in its second cycle and represents cumulative funding of $52.5 million.
- The Helmet Lab’s work routinely receives nationwide coverage and has been featured in outlets including ESPN, NBC, and the New York Times.

 SPORT PSYCHOLOGY • STRENGTH & CONDITIONING
 NUTRITION • SPORTS MEDICINE

Nutrition is an integral component of sports performance and the lives of Virginia Tech student-athletes. That's why the Department of Athletics implemented the sports nutrition program in July of 2002. Virginia Tech Sports Nutrition aims to help athletes reach their full potential in their athletic careers and beyond with a food first, evidence based approach. The sports nutrition staff, directed by Alyson Onyon, MS, RD, CSSD, consists of five Registered Dietitians. They manage the nutrition needs for all 22 teams at Virginia Tech. The dietitians work closely with sports medicine, strength and conditioning and psychology in a multi-disciplinary approach to best meet the athletes' performance needs, and overall health and well-being. HokieFuel aims to stay at the cutting edge of sport science research to help athletes maximize their energy levels, enhance recovery and improve performance.

The Nutrition Oasis is the main fueling station that the sports nutrition staff manages. The Nutrition Oasis allows athletes to fuel up for workouts and recover well afterwards. Popular items include made to order smoothies, Gatorade products and a variety of high-performance snack options, as well as nutrition education resources.

Student-Athlete Performance Center

An estimated $16.5 million project was announced in December 2017 that will create a state-of-the-art Student-Athlete Performance Center that will include significant expansion and innovative renovation, encompassing the entire fourth floor of the Jamerson Athletic Center.

Space for dining, nutrition, donor hospitality, recruiting areas and a seamless connection to the Cassell Coliseum concourse will be part of the new addition. New construction and renovation on the 17,000-square-foot center is anticipated to begin in 2018.

When completed, the center will feature panoramic views of Lane Stadium and a balcony overlooking the practice field. The fourth floor of Jamerson will more than double from its current 6,000 square-foot footprint to 17,000 square feet. A maintenance fund has also been established to keep the new space up to date and visually appealing for years to come.

The project was made possible by a $15.2 million donation by an alumni couple, largest ever gift to athletics and the single-largest outright gift ever given to the university. The gift will benefit student-athletes in all 22 intercollegiate sports.

"Every day, I'm reminded that Virginia Tech is truly a special place," Tech football coach Justin Fuente commented. "We have a couple who not only want the Hokies to compete at the highest level sooner than later, but we also have a shining example that will hopefully move others to make an impact on the lives of Hokies for years to come." Conceptual renderings subject to change.

Student-Athlete Development

MISSION STATEMENT

The Office of Student-Athlete Development is committed to the holistic support of the career, leadership, and personal development of Hokie student-athletes in order to bridge the gap between athletics and academics and build a foundation for success at Virginia Tech and beyond.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

With the university motto, Ut Prosim, (That I May Serve) at our core, the Office of Student-Athlete Development develops student-athletes for successful transitions into and out of college. Holistic education on sexual assault and relationship violence, alcohol, diversity and inclusion, time management, and financial literacy enhance the Hokie student-athlete experience. Our office also assists student-athletes in taking advantage of the many opportunities to volunteer with local and national organizations throughout their college career.

🕒 4,175

Number of community outreach hours for the 2018-19 academic year performed by Virginia Tech student-athletes, including over 900 were completed by members of the football team.

Career Jumpstart is open exclusively to junior and senior Hokie student-athletes and provides them with opportunities to enhance their career development skills through an Industry Info Session and Networking Reception.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

Our intent is to help student-athletes identify ways they can thrive as leaders, students, and competitors. The Virginia Tech Athletics Leadership Institute provides multiple opportunities for connection across our 22 varsity programs as student-athletes navigate their leadership journey. Programs include: guest leadership speakers, small cohort leadership training, travel domestically and internationally to explore leadership in various settings, and more.

Through the Leadership Institute, Hokie student-athletes have the opportunity to hear from successful leaders through a speaker series event. Guest speakers include former student-athletes, athletic director Whit Babcock, former Hokie football great Andre Davis, and athletics staff members such as football strength coach Ben Hilgart.

SAASS

STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT SERVICES

Student-Athlete Academic Support Services (SAASS) is committed to providing a comprehensive academic and personal development program with counseling and advising for student-athletes, offering academic counseling to ensure students receive a complete system of support consistent with university and NCAA policies.

Student-athletes have access to the department's spacious facilities, located in the West Side of Lane Stadium. Opened during the 2006-07 academic year, the SAASS suite, located in the Quillen Family Academic Center, features 16 private tutor rooms, a state-of-the-art classroom, a 36-station computer lab with printer access, a conference room, four quiet areas for reading and studying and a reference library. To accommodate the busy schedules of all of Tech's student-athletes, the SAASS office is open and available for students to access from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. weekdays and Sundays from 3 p.m. until 10 p.m. The SAASS office offers a tutor program available to Tech's student-athletes in both individual and group settings. Tutor services are available six days a week and the staff assures options for nearly every subject a student-athlete could request assistance in. The collection of SAASS programs housed in Lane Stadium guarantees that all student-athletes achieve success during their time at Virginia Tech.

Tech's football student-athletes have always seen great success in the classroom much in part to the help of the SAASS office. Since 2012, 100 percent of Hokie seniors have earned their degree, and the football team has earned some of its highest scores ever in the Academic Progress Rate (APR) in recent reports. Academic All-America honorees in past years have included the likes of Danny Coale and Chris Drager. Among FBS schools, Tech is annually among the best in the number of players on the current roster who have already earned their undergraduate degrees.

25 JERSEY HONOREES

Virginia Tech retired Frank Beamer's No. 25 in 2002. But with Beamer's blessing in 2016, head coach Justin Fuente and his staff paid homage to Tech's legacy of excellence on special teams by selecting a different special teamer each week to wear the honorary Beamer 25 jersey. The response by the team and some of the subsequent performances by players wearing that symbolic number quickly ensured that another Virginia Tech tradition had taken root.

2018 Game-By-Game

GAME ONE

20	VIRGINIA TECH	24
19	FLORIDA STATE	3

DOAK CAMPBELL • TALLAHASSEE, FLA. • SEPT. 3, 2018 • ATT: 75,237

Virginia Tech jumped out to a quick lead and never relinquished it, rolling to a 24-3 victory over Florida State at Doak Campbell Stadium on Monday night in an ACC game that marked the season opener for both squads.

With the victory, Virginia Tech, ranked No. 20 in the Associated Press poll, snapped a six-game losing streak to the Seminoles in Tallahassee. Florida State came in ranked No. 19.

The Hokies played a strong first half, taking a 17-3 lead into the locker room. A Josh Jackson touchdown pass to Damon Hazelton and a field goal by Brian Johnson on the Hokies' first two possessions gave them a 10-0 lead.

Tech's special teams made the biggest play of the first half when tight end Chris Cunningham blocked the punt of FSU punter Logan Tyler. Tech's Eric Kumah caught the deflection and ran it three yards into the end zone for a touchdown, which gave the Hokies the 17-3 cushion.

Tech then put the game away late in the fourth quarter when Jackson threw a 49-yard touchdown pass to Kuman with 5:11 remaining.

Jackson threw for 207 yards and two touchdowns. Tech's defense forced five turnovers, recorded four sacks and held Florida State to just 94 yards rushing.

GAME NOTES

- Kumah's blocked punt return for a score marked the Hokies' first since Anthony Shegog returned one for a touchdown in Tech's win at Purdue in 2015.
- Cunningham's blocked punt marked the Hokies' 11th blocked kick under Justin Fuente and the ninth non-offensive touchdown.
- Tech brought 14 true freshmen on the trip and two of them started – left tackle Christian Darrisaw and long snapper Oscar Shadley.
- Caleb Farley intercepted two passes and had a sack in his collegiate debut.
- Tech's defense recorded 14 tackles for a loss. Trevon Hill had three tackles for a loss and two sacks.

GAME TWO

WILLIAM & MARY	17
12 VIRGINIA TECH	62

LANE STADIUM • BLACKSBURG, VA. • SEPT. 8, 2018 • ATT: 65,632

Josh Jackson threw a touchdown pass and ran for a touchdown and Steven Peoples rushed for two touchdowns, as No. 12 Virginia Tech blasted in-state foe William & Mary 62-17 in a non-conference game at Lane Stadium on Saturday in a game that marked the Hokies' home opener.

The Hokies (2-0) showed no hangover coming off their huge win over Florida State on Monday night, scoring on 10 straight possessions during one stretch of the game and never punting. They racked up more than 400 yards offense in the first 30 minutes alone, and not to be outdone, Tech's defense held William & Mary to 100 first-half yards and just three first downs.

Peoples scored on runs of 6 and 4 yards and Jackson scored on an 8-yard run. Jackson, who played the entire first half and one series in the second, completed 12 of 16 for 217 yards and threw a 39-yard touchdown pass to Damon Hazelton.

The Hokies finished with 586 yards of total offense. William & Mary had 266, led by quarterback Shon Mitchell's 208 yards passing.

Hazelton caught four passes for a career-high 107 yards for the Hokies.

GAME NOTES

- The Hokies now have beaten William & Mary 12 consecutive times.
- The 62 points are tied for the seventh-most points in a single game in program history.
- Tech defensive tackle Ricky Walker injured his left foot in the first quarter and did not return to the game.
- The Hokies' 401 yards in the first half were there most in a half since amassing 434 against Wake Forest in 2010.
- Nine different players caught a pass, as well as nine players ran the ball, and six different players scored rushing touchdowns.

GAME THREE

13 VIRGINIA TECH 35
OLD DOMINION 49

BALLARD STADIUM • NORFOLK, VA. • SEPT. 22, 2018 • ATT: 20,532

Despite Steven Peoples' career-best rushing performance, Virginia Tech struggled for much of the afternoon against in-state foe Old Dominion, and the No. 13 Hokies fell 49-35 to the Monarchs in a nonconference game at Ballard Stadium.

Peoples rushed for 156 yards on 20 carries and scored on runs of 87 yards and 1 yard. Quarterback Josh Jackson threw two touchdown passes.

But the Hokies struggled against ODU's offense, led by backup quarterback Blake LaRussa. The 5-foot-11 LaRussa completed 30 of 49 for 495 yards and threw touchdown passes of 14, 4, 25 and 29 yards. He also rushed for a touchdown on a day in which ODU's offense finished with 632 yards.

The Hokies led 28-21 with 32 seconds left in the third quarter, but ODU scored on its next two possessions, taking a 35-28 lead – its first lead of the game.

Things got worse for Tech, as Jackson went down with a lower leg injury on the first play of the ensuing drive. Backup quarterback Ryan Willis led the Hokies on a 75-yard march that ended with a touchdown pass, tying the game at 35.

But the Hokies simply had no answer for ODU. LaRussa polished off a 75-yard drive with 5:11 left and Jeremy Cox's 40-yard touchdown run sealed the win.

GAME NOTES

- Peoples' rushing performance marked the fourth 100-yard rushing performance by a player in head coach Justin Fuente's tenure.
- Peoples' 87-yard touchdown run tied for the fourth-longest touchdown run in program history.
- Jackson's 72-yard touchdown pass to Hazelton was the longest completion of his career.
- Hazelton has caught a touchdown pass in each of the Hokies' three games and is averaging 25.7 yards per catch this season.
- Cunningham has caught 17 passes in his career – six for touchdowns.

GAME FOUR

VIRGINIA TECH 31
22 DUKE 14

WALLACE WADE STADIUM • DURHAM, N.C. • SEPT. 29, 2018 • ATT: 32,177

Making his first start as a Hokie, quarterback Ryan Willis threw for 332 yards and three touchdowns to lead Virginia Tech to a 31-14 bounce-back victory over No. 22 Duke in an ACC game played Saturday night at Wallace Wade Stadium.

Playing in place of injured starter Josh Jackson, Willis looked like a veteran, throwing the ball accurately and making good decisions, as the Hokies rebounded from a loss to ODU last Saturday. He completed 17 of 27 in the game.

Willis, who transferred from Kansas in 2017, made a beautiful throw over Damon Hazelton's outside shoulder for a 27-yard touchdown pass on the first play of the second quarter to give the Hokies a 10-7 lead, and Tech never trailed again. The Hokies padded their score on their next possession when tight end Dalton Keene hauled in a short pass from Willis and broke several tackles en route to a 67-yard touchdown. Those two scores in a three-minute span enabled the Hokies to take control of the game.

Duke cut the lead to 24-14 on a 1-yard run by Deon Jackson with 13:47 left in the game, but Willis and the Hokies answered. A 75-yard drive ended with a 10-yard touchdown pass from Willis to Phil Jackson.

Tech finished with 413 yards of offense. The Hokies' defense held Duke to 327 yards and sacked Duke's Daniel Jones three times.

GAME NOTES

- Tech beat a ranked team for the fourth time in Justin Fuente's tenure as the head coach (UNC in 2016, West Virginia in 2017, FSU 2018).
- The 300-yard passing game marked the third of Willis' career. He twice went over 300 yards during his two years at Kansas.
- Hazelton's touchdown reception in the second quarter gave him a touchdown reception in all four games this season.
- After missing the ODU game with injuries, both left tackle Christian Darrisaw and safety Divine Deablo returned to their starting roles.
- Patterson's 10-yard touchdown catch was the first receiving TD of his career.
- Steven Peoples scored on a 6-yard run in the third quarter and now has scored a touchdown in three straight games.

GAME FIVE

6	NOTRE DAME	45
24	VIRGINIA TECH	23

LANE STADIUM • BLACKSBURG, VA. • OCT. 6, 2018 • ATT: 65,632

Despite another solid performance from quarterback Ryan Willis and a big game from receiver Damon Hazelton, Virginia Tech struggled to stop Notre Dame's offense in the second half, falling to the No. 6 Irish 45-23 in a non-conference game played Saturday night at Lane Stadium.

The Hokies trailed by just a point at halftime, 17-16, after Willis connected with Hazelton for a 3-yard touchdown with 12 seconds left in the first half. But Notre Dame made several big plays in the second half to pull away.

The Irish scored touchdowns on four of their first five possessions of the second half, including on their first two possessions the third quarter (a 97-yard touchdown run by Dexter Williams and a 40-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Ian Book to Miles Boykin). The latter score gave the Irish a 31-16 lead with 4:59 left in the third quarter.

Notre Dame all but sealed the game early in the fourth quarter when an 11-play, 64-yard drive ended with a 5-yard touchdown pass from Book to Boykin that gave the Irish a 38-16 lead with 9:08 remaining.

Tech cut into that lead when Willis threw a 15-yard touchdown pass to Eric Kumah with 5:40 remaining, but Notre Dame answered with a 31-yard touchdown run by Williams to account for the final margin.

GAME NOTES

- Hazelton recorded his third 100-yard receiving game of the season and now has caught at least one touchdown pass in all five of the Hokies' games this season, tying Isaiah Ford's program record.
- Hazelton's 12 receptions tied a career high. He caught 12 in a game while playing at Ball State before transferring to Tech.
- Willis became the first Tech quarterback since Logan Thomas in 2013 to throw for at least 300 yards in back-to-back games.
- Willis' 52 pass attempts were the most by a Tech quarterback since Michael Brewer threw the ball 56 times in a 28-21 loss to East Carolina in 2014.

GAME SIX

VIRGINIA TECH	22
NORTH CAROLINA	19

KENAN STADIUM • CHAPEL HILL, N.C. • OCT. 13, 2018 • ATT: 50,500

Virginia Tech quarterback Ryan Willis threw a touchdown pass to Dalton Keene with 19 seconds left to lift the Hokies to a 22-19 victory over North Carolina in an ACC game played Saturday night at Kenan Stadium.

North Carolina was ready to put the game away, driving to the Tech 1 midway through the fourth quarter. But the Hokies' Tyree Rodgers forced a fumble from North Carolina tailback Michael Carter that Jovonn Quillen recovered at the Tech 2 with 6:13 remaining in the game.

Willis then led Tech on a 98-yard march, with the Hokies converting on third down on four occasions and on fourth down once. The drive ended with Willis connecting with Keene on a 1-yard touchdown with 19 seconds left. The Hokies went for two points and Willis hit Hazelton, giving the Hokies a 22-19 lead.

North Carolina had one final chance, but couldn't advance the ball past midfield.

Willis paced the Tech offense with 309 total yards. He completed 20 of 36 for 221 yards, with two touchdowns and two interceptions. He also rushed for 88 yards on 15 carries.

The Tar Heels finished with 522 yards. Carter led the way, rushing for 165 yards.

GAME NOTES

- All three of the Hokies' conference wins this season have come on the road.
- The Hokies have beaten the Tar Heels three straight times and in five of the past six meetings.
- Keene now has caught touchdown passes in two of the Hokies' past three games.
- Sean Savoy's 13-yard touchdown reception marked his first of the season and the third of his career. His last TD reception came against Georgia Tech last year.
- Savoy's six receptions are the most for him this season and the second-most for him in his career. He caught nine passes in the Hokies' win over BC last year.
- Willis' 33-yard touchdown run was the longest rush of his career.
- The forced fumble by Emmanuel Belmar in the first quarter was the first of his career. Khalil Ladler notched his second fumble recovery on the season.

GAME SEVEN
	GEORGIA TECH	49
	VIRGINIA TECH	28

LANE STADIUM • BLACKSBURG, VA. • OCT. 25, 2018 • ATT: 65,632

Despite two passing touchdowns and one rushing score from quarterback Ryan Willis, Virginia Tech struggled to slow down Georgia Tech's rushing attack and fell 49-28 to the Yellow Jackets in an ACC game played Thursday night at Lane Stadium.

With the loss, the Hokies dropped to 4-3 overall, 3-1 in the ACC. Georgia Tech moved to 4-4, 2-3.

The key play in the game came midway through the second quarter when the Hokies, leading 21-14, forced Georgia Tech to punt. But Virginia Tech punt returner Sean Savoy muffed the punt, and Georgia Tech recovered at the Virginia Tech 12. Two plays later, Jordan Mason scored on a 5-yard run to tie the game at 21 with 6:57 left in the first half.

That touchdown was the first of four consecutive touchdowns scored by the Yellow Jackets, as Georgia Tech's ground game was in full throttle. Behind quarterback Tobias Oliver – starting in place of injured Taquon Marshall – the Yellow Jackets rushed for 465 yards and registered 35 first downs. Oliver finished with 40 carries for 215 yards and three touchdowns.

The Hokies finished with 323 yards of offense. Willis completed 15 of 22 for 201 yards and two touchdowns, and he also rushed for 22 yards and a score.

GAME NOTES

- Willis now has thrown at least two touchdown passes in each of his four starts. He has 10 touchdown passes and just three interceptions on the season.
- Damon Hazelton's 41-yard touchdown reception in the first quarter marked his team-best sixth touchdown catch of the season.
- Hazelton's 81 yards receiving marked the fifth time in seven games this season that he has recorded at least 50 yards in receiving.
- Tre Turner's 46-yard touchdown reception in the first quarter marked the first touchdown catch of his career. It also marked the longest reception of his career.
- Jalen Holston's touchdown run in the fourth quarter was the fourth of his career.

GAME EIGHT
	24 BOSTON COLLEGE	31
	VIRGINIA TECH	21

LANE STADIUM • BLACKSBURG, VA. • NOV. 3, 2018 • ATT: 65,632

Despite leading at halftime, Virginia Tech saw No. 24 Boston College score 21 unanswered points in the second half and pull away for a 31-21 victory over the Hokies in an ACC game played Saturday at Lane Stadium.

The Hokies trailed 7-0 after BC tailback AJ Dillon scored on a 3-yard run in the first quarter, but Tech answered, scoring on a 26-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Ryan Willis to Damon Hazelton on the ensuing possession to tie the game at 7. Then the Hokies took a 14-7 lead early in the second quarter when Willis connected with Eric Kumah for a 4-yard touchdown.

BC, though, dominated most of the second half, scoring 21 unanswered points to take a 28-14 lead. The Hokies cut into the lead on a Willis touchdown pass to Tre Turner with 4:58 remaining, but the Eagles answered with a field goal with 2:31 remaining to seal the game.

Willis led the Hokies' offense, completing 25 of 42 for 281 yards, with three touchdowns and an interception. He also rushed for 49 yards.

BC finished with 396 yards of offense, including 219 on the ground. Dillon led the way with 96 yards on the ground.

GAME NOTES

- Willis' three touchdown passes give him 13 on the season. He's thrown just four interceptions – none in the past two games.
- Hazelton finished with two receptions for 40 yards and a touchdown. Hazelton's touchdown reception was his seventh of the season, moving him to within four of Isaiah Ford's single-season school record of 11 set in 2015.
- Rico Kearney and Dax Hollifield received the starts because of injuries to linebackers Rayshard Ashby and Dylan Rivers. Both Kearney and Hollifield made their first career starts.
- Also, Tyree Rodgers received the start in place of Khalil Ladler, who had to sit out the first half after being called for targeting in the Georgia Tech game. The start marked the second of Rodgers' career – he also started in the Notre Dame game.

GAME NINE

Pitt	VIRGINIA TECH	22
	PITT	52

HEINZ FIELD • PITTSBURGH, PA. • NOV. 10, 2018 • ATT: 44,398

Virginia Tech fell behind early and couldn't get back in the game, falling 52-22 to Pitt in an ACC game played Saturday night at Heinz Field.

Pitt jumped out to a 17-0 lead and never looked back. The Panthers got an early field goal from Alex Kessman and then used a 53-yard run from Darrin Hall to set up an 8-yard touchdown run by Quadree Ellison toward the end of the first quarter. A 78-yard touchdown pass from Kenny Pickett to Maurice Ffrench early in the second quarter gave the Panthers the 17-point advantage.

The Hokies got on the board when quarterback Ryan Willis threw a 29-yard touchdown pass to receiver Eric Kumah. The play capped an 80-yard drive and cut the Panthers' lead to 17-7.

But Pitt scored touchdowns on its final two possessions to end the first half and ultimately pulled away.

Willis threw two more touchdown passes in the second half. He completed 22 of 34 for 231 yards, with three touchdown passes, and he also rushed for 65 yards. The Hokies amassed 432 yards of offense, while Pitt finished with 654 yards of offense.

GAME NOTES

- Willis' three touchdown passes give him 16 on the season against just four interceptions. He has thrown at least two touchdown passes in all six of his starts since entering the starting lineup for injured starter Josh Jackson.
- Kumah's touchdown receptions were his fourth and fifth of the season. He now has seven in his career. His six receptions tied a career high, and his 80 yards receiving were the third-most in his career.
- Damon Hazelton hauled in a 24-yard touchdown pass in the fourth quarter and now has at least one touchdown reception in eight of nine games this season.
- The Hokies' second scoring drive of the game – the one that ended with the 5-yard touchdown pass from Willis to Kumah – took 7:38 off the clock. That is the Hokies' longest scoring drive this season (previous 6:05 vs. Notre Dame).

GAME TEN

U	MIAMI	38
	VIRGINIA TECH	14

LANE STADIUM • BLACKSBURG, VA. • NOV. 17, 2018 • ATT: 62,379

Miami scored 28 unanswered points midway through the game, and the 'Canes went on to a 38-14 victory over Virginia Tech in an ACC game played Saturday at Lane Stadium.

The Hokies took a 14-10 lead in the second quarter when receiver Tre Turner scored on a 20-yard jet sweep with 10:06 remaining in the first half. But the wheels fell off after that, as Miami scored on a 1-yard run by quarterback N'Kosi Perry with 33 seconds left in the half to retake the lead, 17-14.

That touchdown marked the first of four unanswered scores for the 'Canes. Miami scored three touchdowns in the third quarter, including two on its final two possessions of the period. Jeff Thomas returned a punt 51 yards for a touchdown, and Cam'Ron Davis scored on a 16-yard pass from Perry.

The Hokies' only other score in the game came on a 15-yard touchdown pass from Ryan Willis to tight end Dalton Keene on Tech's first possession of the game. Willis completed just 18 of 36 passes for 216 yards, with a touchdown and two interceptions, to lead a Tech offense that amassed 335 yards.

Perry threw for 171 yards and two touchdowns for Miami, which finished with 339 yards.

GAME NOTES

- Keene's touchdown reception marked his third of the season and the third of his career. The sophomore has caught 18 passes this season after catching just 10 a year ago.
- Turner's rushing touchdown marked his first rushing attempt of his career.
- Willis now has thrown 17 touchdown passes, with just five interceptions on the season.
- Rayshard Ashby led the Hokies with 14 tackles, including one for a loss, in his return from an injury. The sophomore linebacker leads the Hokies with 77 tackles this season, including 38 solo.

GAME ELEVEN
VIRGINIA	31
VIRGINIA TECH	34 (OT)

LANE STADIUM • BLACKSBURG, VA. • NOV. 24, 2018 • ATT: 60,776

Virginia Tech kicker Brian Johnson made a 42-yard field goal in overtime, and the Hokies' Emmanuel Belmar recovered a fumble on Virginia's ensuing possession, all of which gave the Hokies a 34-31 victory over rival Virginia in a Commonwealth Clash game played Saturday evening at Lane Stadium.

With the win, the Hokies snapped their four-game losing streak and extended their winning streak over Virginia to 15 consecutive games.

Tech appeared to be on the ropes after Virginia kicker Brian Delaney made a 28-yard field goal with 2:41 remaining in regulation to give the Cavaliers a 31-24 lead. But the Hokies made several big plays in the final 2:30 of regulation and overtime.

The biggest came on third-and-10 from the Tech 25 when quarterback Ryan Willis connected with tight end Dalton Keene for a 45-yard gain to the Virginia 30. Two plays later, the Hokies tied the game at 31 when Hezekiah Grimsley recovered a Steven Peoples fumble in the end zone for a touchdown. The extra point tied the game at 31 with 1:51 left.

Neither team scored on their final possessions, thus sending the game into overtime for the first time in the 100 games of the series.

Tech got the ball first and settled for Johnson's 42-yard field goal to take a 34-31 lead – but only after Willis somehow avoided a sack by Virginia's Charles Snowden. On the Cavaliers' possession, Bryce Perkins completed an 11-yard pass to Hasise Dubois on the first play, but on the next play, Perkins botched an exchange with tailback Jordan Ellis, and the Hokies' Belmar recovered to give Tech the win.

GAME NOTES

- Turner's blocked punt marked just the second blocked kick of the season for the Hokies. Tech's only other blocked kick came in the season opener against Florida State when Chris Cunningham blocked a punt that Eric Kumah recovered and returned for a touchdown.
- Peoples' 96 rushing yards marked the second-most in a game in his career. He rushed for 156 in the Hokies' loss at Old Dominion.
- Willis now has thrown at least one touchdown pass in all eight of his starts and in nine straight games.
- Johnson's 31-yard field goal marked his first since the Hokies' loss to Notre Dame.

GAME TWELVE
MARSHALL	20
VIRGINIA TECH	41

LANE STADIUM • BLACKSBURG, VA. • DEC. 1, 2018 • ATT: 31,336

Virginia Tech quarterback Ryan Willis threw for 312 yards and four touchdowns to lead Virginia Tech to a 41-20 nonconference victory over Marshall at Lane Stadium on Saturday.

The game served as a makeup game for both schools because of the effects of Hurricane Florence in mid-September. Virginia Tech's game against East Carolina and Marshall's game against South Carolina, both scheduled for Sept. 15, were canceled.

The Hokies, who have won two straight to close the regular season, got started quickly against the Thundering Herd, as defensive tackle Ricky Walker forced Marshall quarterback Isaiah Green to fumble on Marshall's first play from scrimmage, and Tech's TyJuan Garbutt recovered. That play ultimately led to a field goal by Brian Johnson, and the Hokies never trailed.

Willis threw four touchdown passes in the first half to four different receivers. He tossed a 46-yard touchdown pass to Hezekiah Grimsley that gave the Hokies a 10-0 lead, and after Marshall scored on the final play of the first quarter, Willis dominated the second period, throwing touchdown passes of 45 yards to Tre Turner, 7 yards to Steven Peoples and 32 yards to Eric Kumah. The Hokies led 31-6 at the break.

Willis completed 18 of 26 for 312 yards, with four touchdowns. The Hokies finished with 454 total yards.

Marshall tailback Brenden Knox paced the Thundering Herd, rushing for 204 yards on 27 carries and scoring a touchdown. The Thundering Herd finished with 452 total yards.

GAME NOTES

- For the fourth time during the Hokies' bowl streak, they won their final game of the season to become bowl eligible (2012, 2014, 2015, 2018).
- The Hokies moved to 22-5 under head coach Justin Fuente when scoring first.
- Grimsley's 46-yard touchdown reception in the first quarter marked the first touchdown reception of his career. Peoples' 7-yard touchdown reception in the second quarter marked his first receiving touchdown of the season.
- Holston's 40-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter was the longest rush of his career. Deshaun McCleese's 54-yard reception in the second quarter was a career long.

NAVY-MARINE CORPS MS • ANNAPOLIS, MD. • DEC. 31, 2018 • ATT: 32,832

Despite getting two touchdown passes and a rushing touchdown from quarterback Ryan Willis, Virginia Tech couldn't quite overcome Cincinnati in a back-and-forth affair, falling 35-31 to the Bearcats in the Military Bowl held at Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium on Monday afternoon.

With the loss, the Hokies closed the season with a 6-7 overall record and saw their streak of consecutive winning seasons come to an end at 25. The Bearcats finished with an 11-2 record and became just the third 11-win team in program history.

Tech led 31-28 late in the fourth quarter, but Cincinnati marched 64 yards in five plays and scored on a Michael Warren's 8-yard run to take a 35-31 lead with 1:29 remaining. The Hokies drove to the Cincinnati 48 on the ensuing drive, but on second-and-10, Willis' pass was intercepted by James Wiggins at the Cincinnati 17 with 33 seconds left. The Bearcats then took a knee to run out the clock and seal the victory.

Arguably the biggest play in the game came early in the fourth quarter after the Hokies' Dylan Rivers intercepted a pass and returned it to the Cincinnati 12. The Hokies, who led 31-28 and had a great chance to increase their lead, drove to the Cincinnati 3, where they faced fourth-and-1. Head coach Justin Fuente elected to go for it, but Willis was sacked and fumble and Cincinnati regained possession.

GAME NOTES

- For the first time this season, Tech lost a game despite rushing for at least 200 yards. The Hokies rushed for 224 against a Cincinnati defense allowing just 101.8 coming into the game.
- For the eighth time this season, the Hokies finished with more than 400 yards of offense.
- Willis' two touchdown passes gave him 24 for the season – tying for the second-most touchdown pass in a single season in Tech history (Tyrod Taylor). Jerod Evans holds the school record with 29.
- McClelland's 102 yards were his second-most in a game in his career. He rushed for 124 yards in the Hokies' loss to Oklahoma State in the Camping World Bowl last December.

Hokies All-Americans

VIRGINIA TECH'S UNANIMOUS ALL-AMERICA SELECTIONS

JIM PYNE
C • 1993

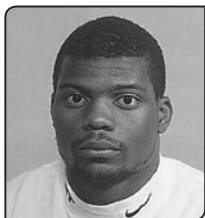

In 1993, Jim Pyne achieved something even Bruce Smith failed to do — earn unanimous All-America honors. Pyne helped pave the way for an offensive unit that set school season marks for total offense and scoring in 1993.

The Hokies averaged 444.1 yards and 36.4 points per game and finished 14th nationally in total offense, 11th in scoring offense and 10th in rushing.

Pyne was named first-team All-America by the AP,

UPI, Walter Camp, the Football Writers Association and the Football Coaches Association (Kodak). He was one of the 12 semifinalists for the Lombardi Award, which goes to the nation's top lineman.

In four seasons at Tech, Pyne played more than 2,700 snaps and allowed just one quarterback sack. He started 35 consecutive games and 41 of the 42 games in which he played.

COREY MOORE
DE • 1998, 1999 (Unanimous)

Following an outstanding senior season in 1999, Corey Moore was voted first-team on all six major All-America teams to become the Hokies' second unanimous All-American. He was selected first-team by the AP, the Football Writers Association, the Football Coaches Association, Walter Camp, The Sporting News and Football News.

Moore posted a BIG EAST record 17 sacks during the '99 season to go with 11 other TFLs and 60 total tackles.

He also earned All-America honors in 1998 when he led the BIG EAST with 13.5 sacks. He gained first-team All-America recognition from the Football Coaches Association. Moore was a second-team pick by the AP and The Sporting News and a third-team choice of Football News.

JAKE GROVE
C • 2002, 2003 (Unanimous)

Jake Grove became the third unanimous All-American in Tech football history when he was named to the first team of all five recognized All-America squads: the FWAA, the AFCA, The Sporting News, the Walter Camp Football Foundation and the AP. He was a fourth-team All-American in 2002 (Sporting News).

As a senior, he was named first-team All-BIG EAST and was presented the Rimington Trophy in Lincoln, Neb., honoring the nation's top collegiate center.

In 13 regular season games, Grove graded out at 91.8 percent on over 700 offensive plays and led the offensive line in knockdowns with 48.

He went on to be drafted in the second round by the Oakland Raiders in the 2004 NFL Draft as the first center taken.

JIMMY WILLIAMS
DB • 2005

Jimmy Williams became Tech's fourth unanimous All-American in football history when he was named to the first team of all five recognized All-America squads: the Football Writers Association of America, the American Football Coaches Association, The Sporting News, the Walter Camp Football Foundation and the AP.

As a senior, he was named first-team All-Atlantic Coast

Conference and was one of three finalists for the Jim Thorpe award, honoring the nation's top collegiate defensive back.

In 13 games, he recorded 44 tackles, including two for loss and a sack, along with 14 quarterback hurries, five pass break ups and an interception.

He went on to be drafted in the second round by the Atlanta Falcons in the 2006 NFL Draft.

THE HOKIES' OTHER FIRST-TEAM SELECTIONS

CARROLL DALE
E • 1959

After earning second-team Associated Press All-America honors as a junior in 1958, Carroll Dale went on to become the first Virginia Tech football player to earn first-team All-America honors following the 1959 season. Dale was named to the Football Writers Association (LOOK Magazine) and Newspaper Enterprise Association first teams as a senior and was once again a second-team choice by the AP. He led Tech in receiving four straight years and finished the '59 season with 17 receptions for 408 yards and six touchdowns.

BOB SCHWEICKERT
QB • 1963, 1964

One of the finest triple-threat quarterbacks in the history of the Southern Conference, Bob Schweickert was named to the LOOK All-America team picked by the Football Writers Association following the 1964 season. Schweickert fought off injuries during the '64 season to rush for 576 yards and nine touchdowns and pass for 833 yards and nine more TDs.

He also handled the punting duties with a 37.7-yard average. As a junior in 1963, Schweickert earned third-team All-America honors from The Associated Press.

FRANK LORIA
S • 1966, 1967 (Consensus)

Safety Frank Loria was the first Tech football player to gain first-team All-America honors in back-to-back seasons and became the Hokies' first consensus All-America pick in 1967. As a junior in 1966, Loria helped Tech to the Liberty Bowl, contributing three interceptions and returning three punts for touchdowns. He was named to first-team A-A squads picked by The Associated Press and the Football Writers Association and was a second-team selection by the Helms Athletic Foundation. Loria was named to six major All-America squads following the 1967 season. He finished the year with three interceptions and 420 yards on punt returns, including a 95-yard return for a TD against Miami. His first-team honors came from the AP, United Press International, NEA, the Football Coaches Association, the Football Writers Association and the Walter Camp Foundation.

MIKE WIDGER
LB • 1968

Mike Widger capped an incredible junior season by earning first-team All-America honors from The Associated Press and the Football Writers Association. Widger compiled a record 825 tackling points and was among the national leaders in pass interceptions (7) and return yardage (203 yards). He returned two of his interceptions for touchdowns and scored another TD after pulling the football loose from a Kansas State running back and racing 46 yards to the end zone.

BRUCE SMITH
DT • 1983, 1984 (Consensus)

Bruce Smith was named to first-team All-America squads picked by the Football Coaches Association and the Newspaper Enterprise Association after registering an incredible 22 quarterback sacks as a junior in 1983. Smith, who also was named to The Associated Press second team that year, finished with a total of 55 tackles, 31 of which were behind the line of scrimmage. As a senior in 1984,

Smith accumulated 16 sacks and nine other tackles behind the line. He finished the year with 69 total tackles and was a consensus All-America pick, making first teams selected by the AP, the Football Writers of America, Kodak and Walter Camp.

Hokies First-Team All-America Selections

EUGENE CHUNG
OT • 1991

When Eugene Chung was named to the Football Writers Association All-America team following his senior season, he became the first Tech offensive lineman to win first-team All-America honors. Chung started every game at tackle for the Hokies in 1991, allowing just one quarterback sack in 730 plays. The Washington Gridiron Club honored Chung as the National Lineman of the Year.

CORNELL BROWN
DE • 1995 (Consensus), 1996

Cornell Brown became the first Virginia Tech football player to gain consensus All-America honors as a junior when he was named to five first teams in 1995. Brown was a first-team A-A pick by AP, UPI, the Football Writers Association, The Sporting News and Football News. He finished the year with 103 total tackles, including a BIG EAST-leading 14 sacks. He was selected National Defensive Player of the Year by Football News and was one of five finalists for the Defensive Player of the Year. In 1996, Brown missed three games, but still earned first-team honors from Walter Camp and second-team recognition from AP. He posted eight sacks, five other tackles behind the line, 19 quarterback hurries and 58 total tackles during the '96 season.

BILLY CONATY
C • 1996

Considered one of the top offensive linemen in school history, Billy Conaty saw action on 98 percent of Virginia Tech's offensive plays in 1996 and went on to earn first-team All-America honors from The Sporting News. Conaty helped the Hokies to a 10-2 record and a trip to the Orange Bowl that season, grading a winning percentage in 10 of the 12 games and leading the squad with 65 knockdown blocks. He finished his career by setting an all-time school record for starts and consecutive starts with 48.

MICHAEL VICK
QB • 1999

In a spectacular freshman season that saw him lead Virginia Tech to its first ever 11-0 regular season and its first appearance in the national championship game, Michael Vick became the first Tech freshman football player to earn first-team All-America honors. Vick was named first-team by The Sporting News. He also was a second-team pick by The Associated Press. The redshirt freshman quarterback was third in the voting for the 1999 Heisman Trophy and second in the voting for the AP Player of the Year. Vick led Division I-A in passing efficiency (180.37), setting a NCAA record for a freshman in the process. He completed 59.2 percent of his passes for 1,840 yards and 12 touchdowns. He also contributed 585 yards and eight TDs rushing.

ANDRÉ DAVIS
PR • 2000

André Davis finished the 2000 season second in the Division I-A ranks in punt returns and earned first-team All-America honors on the American Football Coaches Association team as a return specialist. Davis returned 18 punts for 396 yards for a school-record average of 22 yards per return. He tied another school season mark when he returned three punts for touchdowns. His 87-yard TD return against East Carolina was the second-longest in school history.

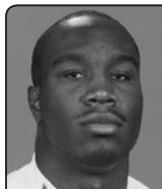

KEVIN JONES
RB • 2003 (Consensus)

One of the highest-rated recruits ever to sign with Virginia Tech, Kevin Jones rushed for a school-record 1,647 yards, including 241 yards against Pittsburgh, on 281 attempts with 21 touchdowns as a junior in '03. He went on to earn first-team All-America honors from The Sporting News, The Walter Camp Football Foundation, FWAA and AFCA. He was named to the second team by AP.

DARRYL TAPP
DE • 2005

Considered one of the best defensive ends in school history, Darryl Tapp capped an incredible career, earning first-team All-America honors by AFCA and second-team honors by The Associated Press. During his senior season, Tapp, who started all 13 games, recorded team-bests for sacks, tackles for loss and forced fumbles. He recorded 10 sacks, 14.5 tackles for loss and three forced fumbles. Tapp was also fifth on the team in tackles. He won the Dudley Award, given to the state's top player, and was a Lott Trophy finalist.

XAVIER ADIBI
LB • 2007

Xavier Adibi teamed with fellow linebacker Vince Hall throughout his career to form what was arguably the best linebacking duo in school history. Though he enjoyed a breakout season as a junior, Adibi put up eye-popping numbers as a senior on his way to first-team All-America honors from the American Football Coaches Association. He led the team with 115 tackles, including 12 tackles for loss, while chipping in three sacks and two interceptions — one of which he returned for a touchdown. In addition to being named first-team All-ACC, Adibi was also awarded a spot on The Associated Press All-America third team.

BRANDON FLOWERS
CB • 2007

Despite leaving a year early for the NFL, cornerback Brandon Flowers became only the seventh Hokie to be named a two-time All-American when he was placed on the American Football Coaches Association first team after his junior season. He was also named second team by both The Associated Press and the Walter Camp Football Foundation. Flowers was a third-team AP honoree as a sophomore. In 2007, he placed third on the team with 86 tackles from his secondary spot, adding eight tackles for loss in the process. After leading the ACC in 2006 in passes broken up and passes defended, opponents shied away from him as a junior, but he still managed nine breakups, 14 passes defended and a career-high five interceptions.

VICTOR "MACHO" HARRIS
CB • 2008

One of the nation's top cornerbacks, Victor Harris earned first-team All-America honors from Sporting News and was a second-team pick by The Associated Press after a stellar senior season. Harris considered entering the NFL Draft following his junior year, but decided to return, earning his degree along with A-A honors. He tied for 11th nationally in interceptions with six, two of which he returned for touchdowns. A two-time first-team All-ACC selection, he finished fourth in the league in interceptions and passes defended, and third in punt returns. His 15 career interceptions rank third all-time at Tech, while his four career TDs on picks are an all-time record for a Hokie.

JAYRON HOSLEY
CB • 2010

Jayron Hosley tied a 43-year old Virginia Tech season record for interceptions on the way to being selected first-team on the Walter Camp All-America squad. Hosley led the nation in interceptions with nine and tied for third in most passes defended with 17. The sophomore cornerback was also a second-team A-A pick by The Associated Press and earned the National Defensive Back Trophy from the College Football Performance Awards. Hosley was named first team All-ACC after topping the league in both interceptions and passes defended. He also ranked second among ACC players in punt returns.

JAKE GROVE WON THE RIMINGTON TROPHY IN 2003

Jake Grove arrived on the Virginia Tech campus as a lightly recruited guard from Forest, Va. He left as a unanimous All-American, winner of the Rimington Trophy as the nation's top center and a second-round draft pick of the Oakland Raiders.

Heading into his junior season, Grove made the switch over to the center position and became a natural fit. By the time he headed into his final season, he was gaining headlines and recognition for his play. He was rewarded by being named to all five major All-America first teams. He was awarded the Dave Rimington Trophy, given to the nation's top collegiate center.

MICHAEL VICK WON AN ESPY AS THE NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR IN 1999

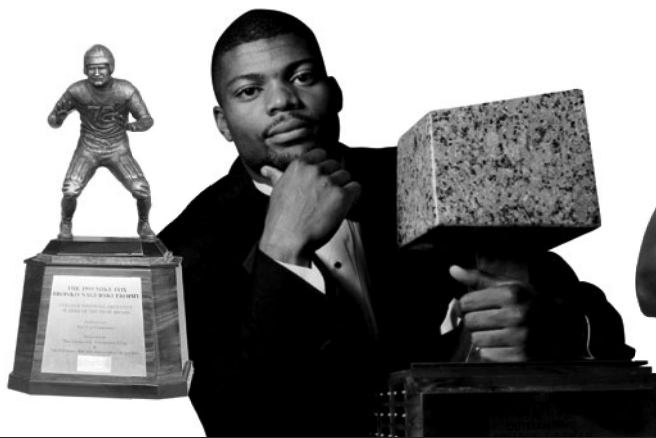

When Michael Vick took to the field against James Madison on Sept. 4, 1999, little did people in attendance or watching on television realize they would be witnessing the beginning of the most exciting two years in Virginia Tech football history.

In 1999, Vick led the Hokies to a perfect 11-0 regular season and a berth in the national championship game, both firsts in school history. The Hokies lost that game to Florida State, but all the talk was about the performance the redshirt freshman put on in that game.

For his accomplishments that year, he was awarded an ESPY by ESPN, given to the nation's top college football player. Vick was awarded the trophy at the ESPY ceremonies on Feb. 14, 2000, in Las Vegas as he mingled with some of sports' all-time greats.

COREY MOORE EARNED THE LOMBARDI AND NAGURSKI AWARDS IN 1999

In three years on campus, Corey Moore amassed 35 sacks for losses, totaling 292 yards. He left Tech as the most decorated player ever to put on the Hokie uniform. He won the 1999 Bronko Nagurski Award as college football's Defensive Player of the Year. Moore also won the 1999 Lombardi Award as college football's lineman of the year. He became Tech's second-ever unanimous All-American, joining Jim Pyne. Moore won the Dudley Award as the top college player in Virginia, the BIG EAST Defensive Player of the Year award and was selected as Football News' Defensive Player of the Year.

BRUCE SMITH WON THE OUTLAND TROPHY AS THE TOP LINEMAN IN 1984

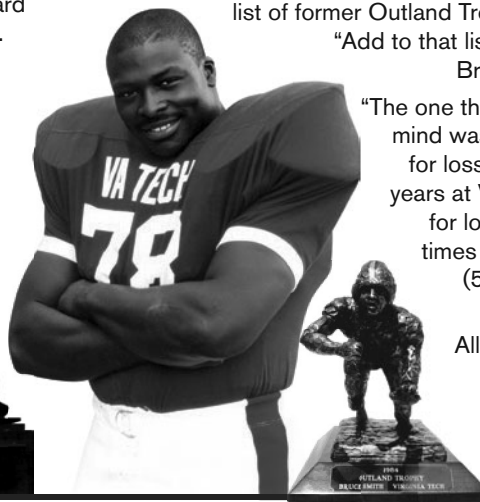

Bruce Smith, "The Sack Man" of Virginia Tech football, capped his sensational college career in 1984 by winning the Outland Trophy as America's top lineman.

The big announcement was made by Wilt Browning at a press luncheon in Tech's Bowman Room. Browning, a sports columnist of The Greensboro Daily News and a committee member of the Football Writers' Association of America, began by reading a long list of former Outland Trophy winners. He then said,

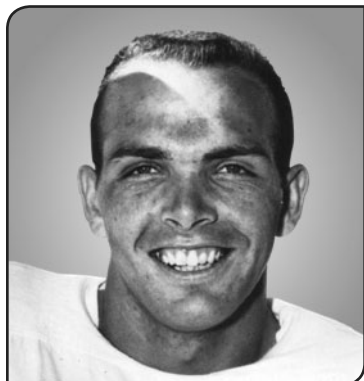

"Add to that list today, the 1984 winner — Bruce Smith of Virginia Tech."

"The one thing though, that stuck in my mind was the statistic on his tackles for losses," Browning said. "In four years at Virginia Tech, he accounted for losses totaling more than five times the length of a football field (504 yards). That's amazing."

Smith was a consensus All-American and was the first Virginian to win one of the national awards (including the Heisman and the Lombardi).

Retired Numbers & Jerseys

84 CARROLL DALE

A native of Wise, Va., Carroll Dale entered Virginia Tech in 1956 as an offensive and defensive end. After seeing varsity action as a reserve in the first game of the '56 season, Dale went on to start the remaining 39 games of his college career and became Tech's first bona fide All-American. As a junior in 1958, he was named the Southern Conference Player of the Year. In 1959, Dale was captain of the Tech team and earned first-team A-A honors. Dale led the Hokies in pass receiving each of his four seasons and finished his Tech career with 67 catches for 1,195 yards and 15 touchdowns. He went on to a pro football career that lasted more than a decade and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1987. His Tech jersey was the first to be retired.

78 BRUCE SMITH

Known as "The Sack Man" of Virginia Tech football, Bruce Smith capped his sensational college career in 1984. As a Tech player, Smith had a career total of 71 tackles behind the line of scrimmage for losses totaling 504 yards. Smith had 46 career quarterback sacks, including 22 during his junior season in 1983 when he was named first-team All-America. In 1984, the Norfolk, Va., native won the Outland Trophy as America's top lineman and was a consensus All-American. Smith was the No. 1 player picked in the 1985 National Football League draft. During his pro career, he established himself as one of the greatest defensive players ever to play the game. He ended his career in 2003 as the NFL's all-time sack leader with 200.

10 FRANK LORIA

Despite his 5-9, 175-pound frame, Frank Loria was one of the most tenacious football players ever to play for Virginia Tech. Loria, who started every game at safety from 1965-67, rapidly established himself as one of Tech's all-time greats. During his junior year, he earned first-team All-American honors. As a senior in 1967, Loria became Tech's first consensus All-American, making seven first-team All-American squads. He finished his Tech career with seven interceptions and a number of punt return records. He went on to coach at Marshall. In 1970, at age 23, he died in an airplane tragedy that claimed the lives of the Marshall football team and staff. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1999. His number was retired prior to the 1971 season.

73 JIM PYNE

Center Jim Pyne became Virginia Tech's first unanimous All-American when he made all five major teams that were selected in 1993. In addition to All-America honors, Pyne was named winner of the Dudley Award as Virginia's Player of the Year. During his four seasons at Tech, he established himself as one of the Hokies' top linemen of all time, leading the charge for the 1993 team that rewrote the school record books for scoring and total offense. Pyne started 35 consecutive games and 41 of the 42 Tech games in which he played. He allowed just one quarterback sack by the man he was assigned to block during more than 2,700 career snaps. Pyne spent nine seasons as an NFL lineman before becoming an assistant coach in the pro ranks.

BEAMER AMONG FIVE WHO HAVE HAD JERSEYS RETIRED

In 2002, the Virginia Tech Athletics Department developed a new policy on retiring football jerseys. This special honor is bestowed to acknowledge an individual who has won an established national award in their sport, while allowing the number to continue to be worn by others. Tech no longer retires numbers. That year, three jerseys were retired in ceremonies. The jerseys of Frank Beamer, Cornell Brown and Michael Vick were the first to be honored. In 2006, Jake Grove had the same honor bestowed upon him. Corey Moore's jersey has been retired since 2009.

Michael Vick · Sept. 1, 2002
Won 2000 ESPY as College Football's Performer of the Year.

Frank Beamer · Sept. 12, 2002
Winner of eight national coach of the year awards following Tech's 1999 season.

Cornell Brown · Nov. 20, 2002
Named 1995 National Defensive Player of the Year by Football News in 1995.

Jake Grove · Sept. 23, 2006
Winner of the 2003 Rimington Trophy, given to the nation's top collegiate center.

Corey Moore · Oct. 23, 2010
Won Lombardi and Nagurski Awards in 1999.

GAME SUMMARY

The University of Cincinnati Bearcats scored three second-half touchdowns to defeat Virginia Tech 18-6 at Kidd Field. The game, played in freezing conditions, marked Tech's first bowl appearance and the first bowl game in which a football team from the commonwealth of Virginia had participated. The Hokies trailed 12-0 before scoring their lone touchdown on a 3-yard run by Ralph Beard on fourth-and-goal. A Cincinnati interception, though, set up a 3-yard touchdown run by Don McMillan to put the game away for the Bearcats.

GAME SUMMARY

The Miami Hurricanes, getting its second wind from a third-quarter roughing the kicker penalty, rebounded for two touchdowns in the second half to register a come-from-behind 14-7 win over Virginia Tech at Memorial Stadium. The Hokies took a 7-0 lead on a 2-yard run by Tommy Francisco, but couldn't hold it, squandering two other scoring opportunities in the first half. A third-quarter touchdown pass from Miami quarterback Bill Miller to Joe Mira tied the game and a fourth-quarter touchdown run by Doug McGee turned out to be the game winner.

GAME SUMMARY

Quarterback Bart Weiss got Air Force's wishbone attack going in the second half and led the Falcons to a 23-7 victory over Virginia Tech at Independence Stadium. Tech took a 7-3 lead in the first quarter on a 10-play, 72-yard drive that ended with a 3-yard touchdown run by Maurice Williams, but the game changed midway through the second quarter when the Falcons forced and recovered a fumble at the Tech 3. Halfback Jody Simmons took a pitchout to the left and put Air Force ahead for good. The turnover was one of four for the Hokies, as Air Force used its ground attack to control the clock. The Falcons rushed for 221 yards.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech earned its first bowl victory in dramatic fashion when Chris Kinzer hit a 40-yard field goal as time expired to give the Hokies a 25-24 comeback win over North Carolina State at Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium. The Hokies rallied from a 21-10 deficit, converting two NC State second-half turnovers into touchdowns to take a 22-21 lead. The Wolfpack regained the lead on a field goal by Mike Cofer with 7:12 remaining, but the Hokies drove to the NC State 23 in the final two minutes to set up Kinzer's game winner.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech scored two touchdowns in the final 35 seconds of the first half to spark an unforgettable 45-20 victory over Indiana at Independence Stadium. The Hokies' Lawrence Lewis returned a fumble 20 yards for a touchdown to give Tech a 21-13 lead with less than 35 seconds to go in the first half. Indiana got to the Tech 42 on the ensuing possession and lined up to try a field goal, but the Hokies blocked it and Antonio Banks returned it 80 yards for a touchdown. That gave the Hokies a 28-13 halftime lead and they never looked back. Tech quarterback Maurice DeShazo threw two touchdown passes in the win.

GAME SUMMARY

Quick-striking Tennessee got off to a big early lead and went on to defeat Virginia Tech 45-23 at Ben Hill Griffin Stadium on the University of Florida campus. Tech backed itself into a corner early, throwing an interception on the game's second play. The Volunteers kept the Hokies there with a variety of big plays that resulted in a 35-10 halftime advantage. Overall, Tennessee had seven plays of 20 or more yards and a total of 495 yards of offense. James Stewart had three rushing touchdowns for the Volunteers, while Peyton Manning threw a touchdown pass. Tech's Dwayne Thomas paced the Hokies with 102 yards rushing and a score.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech scored one of the most stirring victories in the university's athletics history when it came from behind to defeat Texas 28-10 at the Superdome. Tech spotted the favored Longhorns a 10-0 lead and then race back behind the play of flanker Bryan Still, who returned a punt 60 yards for a Tech touchdown with 2:34 left in the first half, caught a 27-yard pass from quarterback Jim Druckenmiller at the Texas 2-yard line to set up a touchdown run by Marcus Parker that put the Hokies ahead 14-10, and got behind the Texas defenders to haul in a 54-yard touchdown pass from Druckenmiller. That play spelled doom for the Longhorns and helped earn Still the game's MVP award.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech's second venture into Bowl Alliance territory wasn't as successful as the first, as the Hokies fell 41-21 to power-packed Nebraska at Pro Player Stadium. Nebraska out-gained Tech by just seven yards, 415 to 408, and managed to lead by only three points with less than one minute remaining in the third quarter. In the end, it was the Nebraska depth that wore down the Hokies. Tech quarterback Jim Druckenmiller threw three touchdown passes and Ken Oxendine rushed for 150 yards on 20 carries in the loss.

GAME SUMMARY

Highly rated North Carolina outplayed Virginia Tech in every phase of the game to score a 42-3 victory at Alltel Stadium. The Tar Heels threw for 318 yards and ground out 124 more yards on the ground. Tech, meanwhile, was held to 185 yards, its lowest total of the season. The Hokies never could get their offense on track, losing three of their six fumbles. Tech's only points came on a 40-yard field goal by Shayne Graham late in the third quarter.

GAME SUMMARY

A sellout crowd of 41,600 who braved a freezing rain and a wind chill that dipped to 14 degrees watched as Virginia Tech beat Alabama 38-7 in the inaugural Music City Bowl at Vanderbilt Stadium. Quarterback Al Clark got Tech off to a quick start with a 43-yard touchdown run on the fourth play of the game. In the second half, Corey Moore forced an interception that led to a 1-yard touchdown run by Lamont Pegues and then he blocked a punt that set up a 4-yard touchdown by Shyrone Stith. Anthony Midget's interception return for a touchdown sealed the Hokies' first win over the Tide.

GAME SUMMARY

In a breathtaking game, Tech rallied from a 21-point first-half deficit to take the lead from Florida State going into the fourth quarter. But the Hokies simply couldn't overcome their mistakes nor the big plays of the Seminoles, and as a result, FSU walked off the field with a 46-29 Sugar Bowl victory and the national title at the Superdome. The Hokies trailed 28-7, but took a 29-28 lead on Michael Vick's 3-yard touchdown run with 37 seconds left in the third. The Seminoles scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter, though, to pull away. Vick finished with 323 of the Hokies' 503 yards of total offense.

GAME SUMMARY

The Virginia Tech Hokies took the Auburn Tigers to the final two minutes of the game, but could not pull off the upset, falling to the Tigers 16-13 at the Superdome. Trailing 16-6 with 2:13 showing on the clock, Tech cut into the lead when quarterback Bryan Randall hit Josh Morgan for an 80-yard touchdown strike to bring Tech within three points with 2:01 remaining. Auburn, though, recovered Tech's onsidles kick and ran out the clock to register the win. Randall accounted for 344 yards of offense in the loss.

GAME SUMMARY

The Virginia Tech Hokies twice rallied from 11-point deficits and scored 22 unanswered points in the fourth quarter to knock off Louisville 35-24 at Alltel Stadium. Tech trailed 24-13 in the fourth quarter, but a Cedric Humes touchdown run and a two-point conversion cut the deficit to 24-21. Then following a Louisville turnover, Tech's Marcus Vick threw a touchdown pass to Jeff King that enabled the Hokies to take the lead. James Anderson's interception return for a score sealed the win for Tech. Humes rushed for 113 yards and the touchdown in the win.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech jumped out to a 21-3 halftime lead, but the Hokies' second-half turnovers proved costly, as Georgia scored 28 unanswered points in the final 30 minutes to knock off Tech 31-24 at the Georgia Dome. The Hokies jumped out to the 18-point halftime lead thanks to two 1-yard touchdown runs by tailback Branden Ore and a 53-yard pass from receiver Eddie Royal to tight end Sam Wheeler on a trick play. But Tech turned the ball over four times in the second half and three of those turnovers led to 18 Georgia points. The Hokies finished with just 189 yards of offense.

Tech's defense did not allow a point in the second half for the fifth straight game and allowed just 112 yards of offense in the final 30 minutes - 43 of that coming in Vols' final drive with the outcome well in hand. The defense also recorded six sacks. Williams rushed for 117 yards and two touchdowns, breaking Tech's single-season rushing record of 1,647 yards set by former tailback Kevin Jones in 2003. Williams finished the season with 1,655 yards.

GAME SUMMARY

Michigan kicker Brendan Gibbons booted a game-winning 37-yard field goal in overtime, as the Wolverines knocked off Virginia Tech 23-20 in a wild Sugar Bowl at the Superdome. Tech lost the coin flip in overtime and Michigan decided to play defense first. On third-and-5 from the Michigan 20, Tech quarterback Logan Thomas appeared to have thrown a touchdown pass to receiver Danny Coale in the corner of the end zone. Officials originally ruled the play a touchdown, but reviewed it, and then reversed the call, saying Coale didn't maintain control of the ball. Tech's defense only gave up 184 yards in the game, but turnovers and penalties kept the Wolverines in the game.

Virginia Tech kicker Cody Journell drilled a 22-yard field goal in overtime, and Rutgers kicker Nick Borgese misfired from 42-yards out on the Scarlet Knights' possession, enabling the Hokies to rally for a 13-10 overtime victory at the Florida Citrus Bowl. Tech entered the fourth quarter down 10-0, but a 25-yard field goal from Journell cut the Rutgers lead to 10-3 with 12:14 left in the game. Then, moments later, cornerback Antone Exum intercepted a pass and returned it 32 yards to the Rutgers 21. That put the Hokies in perfect field position with 11:11 remaining and they tied the game on a 21-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Logan Thomas to Corey Fuller. Tech's defense held Rutgers' offense without a touchdown and allowed just 196 yards.

Coleman was named MVP after running for 157 yards and a touchdown on 25 carries. The 157 yards set a new Tech bowl record for yards, surpassing Kevin Jones and Darren Evans, who each ran for 153 yards in a game. Slye's four field goals tied the school record for made field goals in a bowl game. Justin Myer hit four field goals in the 2012 Sugar Bowl against Michigan. Tech's defense allowed 489 yards of UC offense, but had two interceptions and clamped down in big situations to thwart drives.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech made the final game for its head coach a memorable one, beating Tulsa 55-52 at Independence Stadium. The win marked the final one for Frank Beamer, who decided in November to retire at the conclusion of the season after 29 seasons as the Hokies' head coach. Tech's players doused Beamer as he walked across the field to shake the hands of Tulsa coach Philip Montgomery. The Hokies led 55-37 with 11 minutes remaining and held on, getting a sack from Dadi Nicolas on Tulsa's final drive to seal the game. Tech receiver Isaiah Ford caught 12 passes for 227 yards, both bowl records for the Hokies, and Travon McMillian rushed for two of the Hokies' five touchdowns in the win.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech quarterback Jerod Evans accounted for four second-half touchdowns and Tech's defense forced four turnovers in the second half, as the No. 22 Hokies rallied from a 24-0 halftime deficit to knock off Arkansas 35-24 in the Belk Bowl. The Hokies' 24-point rally was the biggest since 1987 and believed to be the biggest in school history. Tech turned the ball over twice in the first half, and the Razorbacks scored 10 points off of those - part of their 24-point barrage. But Tech's Chuck Clark arguably turned the game, forcing a fumble on Arkansas' first possession of the second half. Woody Baron recovered for the Hokies, and Evans scored on a 4-yard run for Tech's first score of the game. Arkansas turned it over four times in the second half - and the Hokies scored touchdowns after every one of them. A Tremaine Edmunds interception led to a 5-yard touchdown pass from Evans to tight end Chris Cunningham with 4 minutes left in the third quarter that cut the lead to 24-21. Tech took its first lead of the game on a 6-yard touchdown run by Travon McMillian with 12:03 left in the game. The Hokies then iced it when Terrell Edmunds' interception led to a 1-yard touchdown run by Evans with 6:41 remaining that accounted for the final margin.

GAME SUMMARY

Two touchdown passes thrown by Mason Rudolph in the second half pushed Oklahoma State to the, 30-21, victory over Virginia Tech. Tech went into the fourth quarter trailing, 14-27. Josh Jackson found the endzone on a 5 yd run to cut the lead to just six points with 5:40 to go in the game. OSU kicker, Matt Ammendola, hit a 38 yd FG with 2:34 left in action, on a 10 play drive that took valuable minutes off the clock, giving OSU a, 30-21, advantage. The Hokies would go from its own 18 yd line down the field to Oklahoma State's 27 for one last opportunity. Tech would come up short, turning the ball over on downs with 11 seconds to go in the game. Virginia Tech accumulated more total yards of offense with 518 yards to Oklahoma State's 488 despite the OSU victory.

GAME SUMMARY

A late rushing touchdown from Cincinnati's Michael Warren gave the Bearcats a, 35-31, lead and propelled them to victory. There were six lead changes in the second half making it back and forth play throughout. In the fourth quarter, Cincinnati scored two touchdowns to Tech's one touchdown giving the Bearcats a strong advantage. Ryan Willis took the Hokies down the field with just 1:29 to go but was intercepted by Cincinnati's James Wiggins thus putting the contest out of reach. Tech passes for more yards and accumulated more first downs despite the loss.

FRANK BEAMER INTRODUCTORY NEWS CONFERENCE

Virginia Tech fans are still beaming about their new Peach Bowl victory over N.C. State. But if such postseason success is to continue, it will be up to Frank Beamer.

Two days before Christmas, Beamer, 40, was named Tech's successor to head football coach Bill Dooley. And from the look of his credentials, it could be a prized gift for the Hokies.

—Chris Colston, Hokie Huddler,
Jan. 6, 1987 issue

FRANK BEAMER'S FIRST PRACTICE

"The players have treated me fairly. I'm a big person on trust, and I think you build relationships over time and not just on a few practices. I hope our relationship will grow tighter and tighter as time goes on."

—Frank Beamer, Hokie Huddler,
April 21, 1987 issue

ACCEPTANCE OF THE 1993 INDEPENDENCE BOWL INVITATION

The Hokies thrashed the Orangemen 45-24 before a season-high crowd of 44,722 at Lane Stadium. The win also gave Frank Beamer his most wins—seven—as head coach at his alma mater.

More importantly, Independence Bowl Chairman Mike McCarthy extended the Hokies an invitation to play in Shreveport on Dec. 31. The team accepted in a meeting held at 4:30 p.m.

1995 SUGAR BOWL VICTORY OVER TEXAS

The Hokies closed their finest season in their 103-year football history with an improbable 10-game winning streak that came on the heels of an ugly 0-2 start. Despite that streak and a co-BIG EAST championship, many questioned whether Tech, 2-8-1 just four years ago, belonged in a major bowl. There should be no questions after Sunday's dominant defensive performance.

—David Teel, The Daily Press, Jan. 1, 1996

“Frank Beamer has been one of the icons, in my mind, in this era of coaching. He has a fantastic record at Virginia Tech and been there a long, long time. He’s one of the great guys in our profession. I’ve always admired him as a coach, but also the professional character that he always carries himself with and the way he treats other people.”

Alabama head coach Nick Saban

“Frank Beamer is, has been and will remain a beacon of light for college football. Not only a great career at Virginia Tech, but most importantly, a tremendous leader and model for the young men in his program and his personal family. He has guided so many to become successful in life through a value system much needed to today’s society. A sincere and caring family man, Frank has brought that feeling to the entirety of his university.”

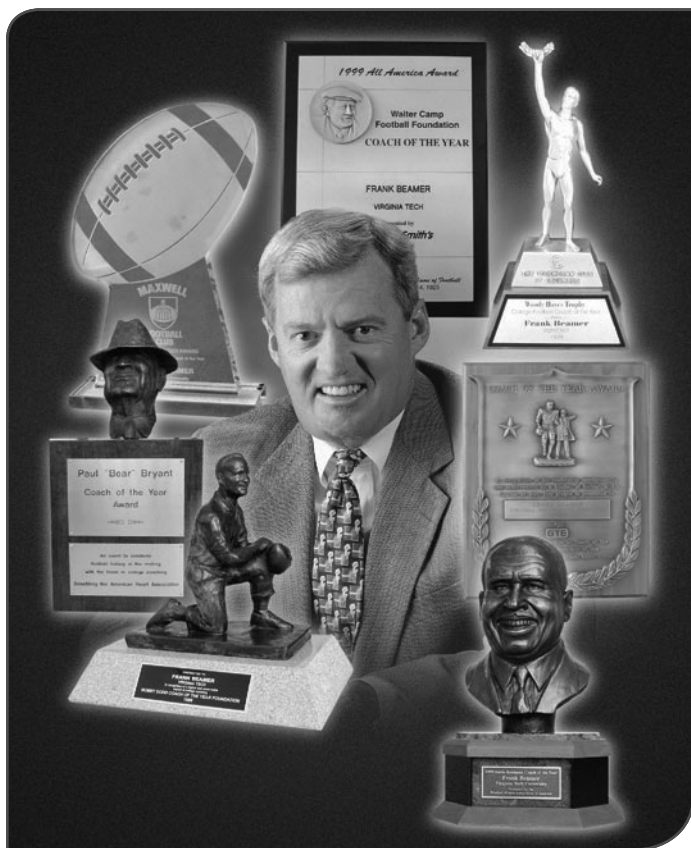

Kansas State head coach Bill Snyder

COLLEGE GAMEDAY VISITS FOR THE FIRST TIME

Tech fans certainly got excited over the arrival of Chris Fowler, Kirk Herbstreit and the infamous Lee Corso—the trio who made up College Gameday. Between 12,000-13,000 fans packed the press box side of Lane Stadium just to yell and scream and be on television.

—Jimmy Robertson, Hokie Huddler, Oct. 22, 1999 issue

1999 COACH OF THE YEAR AWARDS

This season was a season of firsts for Tech's 53-year-old head coach. He was named Region I Coach of the Year as voted on by the American Football Coaches Association. He's speaking at the prestigious Heisman Trophy Award dinner next week. He became one of just a handful of coaches nationwide ever to lead a team to an unbeaten regular season. And then there's this little matter of playing for the national title.

—Jimmy Robertson, Hokie Huddler, Dec. 10, 1999 issue

CONGRATULATORY CALL FROM PRESIDENT BILL CLINTON

Tech coach Frank Beamer received a postgame phone call from President Bill Clinton following the Hokies' 46-29 loss to Florida State in the national championship game. He congratulated Tech on a stellar effort and a great season.

FRANK BEAMER TURNS DOWN NORTH CAROLINA TO STAY IN BLACKSBURG

"It was certainly nothing against North Carolina. Everything and everyone was very gracious, and I appreciate it. But when you get away a little bit, you realize how special this place is and the relationships that we have at this place. And the excitement and the fans that we have at this place... there's just so many things. I know the grass looks greener sometimes. But when you sit back and look, you can see how green the grass is here."

—Frank Beamer, hokiesports.com the newspaper, Dec. 8, 2000 issue

TECH RETIRES FRANK BEAMER'S NO. 25 JERSEY

"I'm certainly not the athlete the rest of those guys hanging up there are. But this place has been special... for me. It's been a dream to be in this position. It's a real honor for me."

—Frank Beamer, hokiesports the newspaper, Sept. 20, 2002 issue

"I remember him sitting on my couch, the smile he had on his face, the enthusiasm and him really impressing my mom with his delivery. That was special because he made her smile and made me believe that he wanted me in that moment, and for him to take his time to come down there was really a special moment."

Former Virginia Tech QB Michael Vick

2004 ACC COACH OF THE YEAR HONOR

It came as little surprise that, the week after the Miami game, Tech coach Frank Beamer earned the ACC's Coach of the Year honor. It also came as little surprise that he received SI.com's national Coach of the Year honor. He deserved it. But while the awards reflect on him, they also reflect on his staff. Truthfully, they did their best coaching job this season.

—Jimmy Robertson, hokiesports the newspaper, Dec. 17, 2004 issue.

"When people think of Hokie football, they think of Frank Beamer. It was an honor to have competed against you and I want to wish you and your wife, Cheryl, and your children and grandchildren all the best during your next adventure. Congratulations."

Former Boston College AND
N.Y. Giants head coach Tom Coughlin

FRANK BEAMER NOTCHES FIRST WIN OVER BOBBY BOWDEN

Shortly before the final seconds ticked off, a few of Tech's players dumped a cooler filled with water over Beamer, and while Tech's longtime head coach downplayed the victory over the Seminoles from a personal standpoint, his smiles on the sideline at the end of the game spoke to the contrary.

—Jimmy Robertson, hokiesports the newspaper, Nov. 12, 2007 issue

2009 ORANGE BOWL VICTORY OVER CINCINNATI

The Orange Bowl championship trophy is likely the biggest — and heaviest — that Virginia Tech has ever won. It took two managers and a pushcart to get the massive trophy and glass bowl into the lobby of head coach Frank Beamer's office — and that's after the real oranges were replaced with hollow plastic replicas.

—Bill Roth, Inside Hokie Sports, January, 2009 issue

2009 CHICK-FIL-A BOWL VICTORY OVER TENNESSEE

New Year's Eve in Atlanta features the annual ritual of dropping an oversized replica of a peach to commemorate the New Year. This year, the ritual also featured the Virginia Tech football team dropping the hammer on Tennessee.

Behind a punishing defense and the typical running of Ryan Williams, the Hokies closed 2009 by caging ol' Smokey and knocking the Volunteers off Rocky Top in a 37-14 rout in the Chick-fil-A Bowl at the Georgia Dome.

—Jimmy Robertson, Inside Hokie Sports, January, 2010 issue

HOKIES' 2010 ACC TITLE WIN OVER FLORIDA STATE

Beamer's 24th team pulled off one of the great turnarounds we've ever seen. The 2010 Virginia Tech Hokies were the first team in NCAA history to lose their first two ball games and then win 11 straight. It had never happened before.

—Bill Roth, Inside Hokie Sports, December, 2010 issue

HOKIES' 2014 WIN AT OHIO STATE

"I still remember going to Nebraska and winning and going to Texas A&M and winning. That's been a few years back. But this is good. I think those things go in cycles a little bit. When you play good teams like we play, you've got about a 50-50 shot of winning, and when you go on the road, it probably goes down a little bit. I think this is a big, big win for the status of our program."

—Frank Beamer, hokiesports.com, Sept. 7, 2014

FRANK BEAMER ANNOUNCES PLANS TO RETIRE

Beamer is fond of saying that he is fortunate and grateful. And he undoubtedly is. We all are, in fact. We all got to be a part of it. We all got to actually experience it — me, for just a short time, which will fortunately allow me to be a bridge when I talk of the Beamer way. For many of you, for much longer, which will only strengthen your conviction when you speak, as well.

—Jon Laaser, Inside Hokie Sports,

HOKIES BEAT VIRGINIA 23-20 IN FRANK BEAMER'S FINAL REGULAR-SEASON GAME

"That game showed everything we've tried to do at Virginia Tech. Relentless—I love that word—we got down and found a way to come back. We got it at the end. We did some good things in the kicking game, getting field position. The defense played great, and the offense made plays. Everything that we talk about—hanging in there, don't give in, play your best when it counts—that kind of came through today."

—Frank Beamer, hokiesports.com, Nov. 28, 2015

HOKIES WIN INDEPENDENCE BOWL OVER TULSA IN FINAL GAME OF FRANK BEAMER'S CAREER

"I've got a lot to look forward to. My grandkids, I've got a wonderful wife—I'm not sure she's all for it, but we're going to spend a lot of time together now—and then I've got some things that I'm interested in doing in the future. The next challenge, I look forward to it. I realize how fortunate I've been to have lasted this long at Virginia Tech. All I am is grateful and looking forward to taking the next step."

SPRING ROAD BECOMES BEAMER WAY BEFORE FRANK'S FINAL SEASON

"When I was informed of this, I had two immediate thoughts. First, the appreciation I have for all of the players, coaches, support staff and fans that laid the foundation for this program. And secondly, I hope the 'Beamer Way' is the right way! When people see that sign, I hope they can be proud of what it represents."

—Frank Beamer

TEAM UNITED LOCKER ROOM IN HONOR OF FRANK BEAMER

In March of 2016, the Board of Visitors decided more recognition of Beamer was warranted. The group approved the renaming of the football program's Team United Locker Room to The Frank Beamer Locker Room to honor Beamer for his years of service and contributions to the university and the game of football.

BEAMER MONUMENT UNVEILED IN 2018

Prior to Virginia Tech's contest against Notre Dame on Oct. 6, 2018, a monument of Frank Beamer was unveiled in Moody Plaza, located on the Southwest corner outside of Lane Stadium. Unlike other monuments honoring iconic figures, the tribute to Beamer is devoid of any pedestal and is very approachable, just like the man himself. At halftime of the game, the Hokies' indoor practice facility was officially named the Beamer-Lawson Indoor Practice Facility. John Lawson, a Virginia Tech alum, delivered a significant leadership gift for the project and is the executive chairman of the W.M. Jordan Company who designed and constructed the facility.

FROM FANCY GAP TO THE HALL OF FAME

When Beamer stands on that stage Tuesday night, he will thank a bunch of people. Time will not permit the recitation of each individual name, but rest assured, he views his induction into the College Football Hall of Fame as something much bigger than him. In other words, the crowning achievement is for everyone, not just him.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Frank Beamer, the first Tech alumnus to guide the Hokies' football program since the 1940s, won more games at Tech than any other head football coach. Prior to Beamer, no other grid coach in Virginia Tech history had served more than 10 seasons as head coach. Beamer was also the most-tenured active FBS head coach, having been at his current school consecutively longer than any other coach in the nation at the time of his retirement.

With a victory in the Independence Bowl, Beamer led the Hokies to 23 straight bowl games, making him one of four coaches all-time in college football history to accomplish that feat.

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF COACH BEAMER AND HIS STAFF, THE HOKIES ...

- played for the national championship for the first time in school history.
- become the only school to go to bowl games each of the last 23 seasons (longest active streak per NCAA).

VT UNIVERSITY & MEDIA INFORMATION

About Virginia Tech

Dedicated to its motto, Ut Prosim (That I May Serve), Virginia Tech pushes the boundaries of knowledge by taking a hands-on, transdisciplinary approach to preparing scholars to be leaders and problem-solvers.

Since its founding as a land-grant college in 1872, Virginia Tech has grown to an enrollment of 35,000. Virginia Tech offers the widest range of degree choices in Virginia and is the state's leading research institution. In Northern Virginia, the university is developing a 1 million-square-foot Innovation Campus that will become a global center of talent production and technology excellence. In Roanoke, the Fralin Biomedical Research Institute at VTC and the Virginia Tech Carilion School of Medicine are a part of the VTC Academic Health Center. The main campus is in Blacksburg, Virginia, while the university's international presence is anchored by the Steger Center for International Scholarship in Riva San Vitale, Switzerland.

Offering approximately 280 undergraduate and graduate degree programs, Virginia Tech has seven undergraduate colleges, two professional colleges, a Graduate School, and an Honors College. Inside and outside of the classroom, in living-learning communities, and in collaboration across academic disciplines, Virginia Tech students engage in experiential learning.

In Virginia Tech's Destination Areas and Strategic Growth Areas, Tech scholars seek to address complex global challenges that cross disciplinary boundaries. Taking students to the next level by helping them solve real-world problems, Tech professors have a reputation for imagining the next great thing—from blind-driver cars to energy-conscious homes—and then making it happen.

Virginia Tech conducts more than $500 million in research expenditures each year. The university boasts world-class research institutes and facilities—such as the Smart Road transportation research testbed, and the Cube, a four-story theater and laboratory in the Moss Arts Center. LINK, the Center for Industry Partnerships, streamlines the way that companies engage with Tech, and LAUNCH, the Center for New Ventures, helps researchers turn their inventions into marketable products to benefit society.

Guided by its Principles of Community, the university is dedicated to increasing access, inclusion, and diversity in order to create a community that nurtures learning and growth for all of its members.

The desire to serve is deeply ingrained in Virginia Tech's learning, discovery, and engagement. More than a motto, Ut Prosim is a value system that guides students' decisions and helps mold them into responsible citizens of the world.

Tim Sands

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Timothy D. Sands is the 16th president of Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, joining the university in June of 2014. He is also a scientist, educator, and inventor, he has dedicated much of his career to advancing the impact of research and innovation in public education. As president, he has engaged the university community in a visionary plan to advance Virginia Tech's role as a global land-grant institution, confronting the commonwealth's, the country's, and the world's most challenging problems. The initiative, called "Beyond Boundaries," seeks to define Virginia Tech's role a generation into the future and align the educational experience with the needs and opportunities that will be created by changing world economies and the evolving landscape of higher education.

In collaboration with the provost and academic leadership, he has championed the development of Destination Areas, thematic focus areas that leverage the university's signature strengths to attract talent and generate creative energy that extends across the disciplines. The development of these areas involves reimagining Virginia Tech's Blacksburg residential campus, catalyzing the economic development of the Blacksburg-Roanoke region with a growing health science and technology center of excellence and developing the experiential learning and research potential in the National Capital Region. He has prioritized building new and enhancing existing partnerships and collaborations to use resources and expertise in a focused and efficient way across the country and the globe.

He also launched and led InclusiveVT, an initiative to provide leadership, collaboration, guidance, and resources to support and accelerate the implementation of inclusion and diversity goals throughout the university community.

InclusiveVT supports the imperative of inclusion and diversity as key components of a university ecosystem rich in opportunities for experiential learning, cross-disciplinary engagement, and the development of cultural awareness and empathy.

President Sands' vision for Virginia Tech embraces the university's heritage of service and community and its motto, Ut Prosim (That I May Serve). Virginia Tech students will graduate with disciplinary mastery, technology literacy, cultural competency, resilience, empathy for others, and the passions and strengths needed for a life and career of impactful service to humanity.

Before coming to Virginia Tech, President Sands served as executive vice president for academic affairs and provost of Purdue University in West Lafayette, Indiana. He was acting president during the summer and fall of 2012, before Mitchell E. Daniels became the 12th president of Purdue.

He earned a bachelor's degree with highest honors in engineering physics and a master's degree and doctorate in materials science from the University of California, Berkeley. He joined the Purdue faculty in 2002 as the Basil S. Turner Professor of Engineering in the schools of Materials Engineering and Electrical and Computer Engineering. Prior to becoming provost, he served as the Mary Jo and Robert L. Kirk Director of the Birck Nanotechnology Center in Purdue's Discovery Park.

From 1993 to 2002, President Sands was a professor of materials science and engineering at the University of California, Berkeley, and before that, he performed research and directed research groups at Bell Communications Research (Bellcore) in Red Bank, New Jersey. Throughout his career, he has participated in and led research teams and academic programs that have been characterized by open collaboration across a wide array of disciplines.

He has published more than 250 refereed papers and conference proceedings and has been granted 20 patents in electronic and optoelectronic materials and devices. He is member of the faculty in Virginia Tech's Bradley Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering, with research interests in microelectronics, optoelectronics, and nanotechnology. He is a fellow of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, the Materials Research Society, and the National Academy of Inventors.

President Sands is joined at Virginia Tech by his wife, Dr. Laura Sands, a professor of gerontology in the Department of Human Development at Virginia Tech. All four of their children graduated from Purdue and are proud members of the Virginia Tech community. Follow President Sands on Twitter at @VTSandsman.

Virginia Tech Athletics started a new era when Whit Babcock was formally named Virginia Tech's director of athletics on Jan. 24, 2014. The Harrisonburg, Virginia native came back to the state following stints at Cincinnati, Missouri, West Virginia, Auburn and James Madison.

The 2018-19 academic calendar marked another successful year under Babcock's leadership, beginning in the classroom. Eighteen of Virginia Tech's 22 athletic teams achieved a 3.0 GPA or greater during the Spring 2019 semester, continuing a string of strong academic showings by student-athletes in recent years. In total, 192 student-athletes made the Dean's List during the spring semester (3.40 GPA or better), while 299 student-athletes are maintained a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or better.

The results on the fields and courts for the Hokies in 2018-19 were equally as impressive. The men's track and field program won both indoor and outdoor ACC championships, giving Tech 10 total ACC track and field titles under Dave Cianelli. Meanwhile, the softball squad earned the ACC Coastal title, a No. 1 seed in the ACC tournament and the program's first NCAA tournament berth since 2015.

Tech's football squad extended the nation's longest active string of bowl berths to 26 straight seasons, while the men's basketball and men's soccer programs each advanced to the NCAA tournament for a third consecutive year. The women's golf program made its second straight NCAA tournament, while women's soccer and women's cross country also qualified for NCAA postseason competition. Both the men's and women's basketball teams registered 20+ wins for a fourth consecutive year as the women advanced to the WNIT for a fourth straight season.

A host of exemplary individual performances also highlighted the 2018-19 campaign for the Hokies. Mekhi Lewis won Tech's first individual national title in wrestling at 165 pounds. Amanda Hollandsworth became the first Tech women's golfer to advance to the championship round of the NCAA tournament and qualified for the U.S. Women's Open, while Peter Seufer claimed the ACC Men's Cross Country title.

The 2017-18 academic year marked more additions to Tech's trophy case as men's track and field squad won a national championship in the distance medley relay and the Hokies claimed an ACC championship in wrestling. Both the women's golf and lacrosse programs earned Tech's initial NCAA berths in those sports, while the women's basketball team reached the finals of the WNIT.

Babcock received national acclaim for his work as an AD during the 2017-18 academic year, as he was named one of four FBS recipients of the Under Armour AD of the Year. The previous year, Babcock was one of five finalists for the AD of the Year honor handed out by SportsBusiness Journal and SportsBusiness Daily. The Hokies claimed the Commonwealth Clash, an all-sports competition with rival Virginia sponsored by Virginia529, for the second consecutive year. Tech dominated the Cavaliers in 2017-18, winning by a score of 12.5-8.5.

Babcock has displayed an acumen for making great coaching hires during his relatively short tenure in Blacksburg. The latest addition to Tech's talented head coaching roster was 2019 Sporting News Coach of the Year, Mike Young. The Radford, Virginia native took over the reins of the men's basketball program in April 2019 after a record-setting 17-year run at Wofford where he compiled 299 wins, five NCAA tournament appearances and was a four-time Southern Conference Coach of the Year. Young replaced another Babcock hire, Buzz Williams, who produced a 100-69 overall record and three NCAA tournament berths at Tech.

Justin Fuente earned consensus honors as the ACC Coach of the Year in 2016 after guiding the football team to 10 wins and has continued Tech's streak of bowl appearances and victories against Virginia established under Frank

Babcock welcomed 2016 Olympian Kristi Castlin back to Hokie Nation in 2017. Castlin won a bronze medal at the Rio Games in an American sweep in the 100-meter hurdles.

Beamer. Kenny Brooks has guided the women's basketball program to three straight postseason appearances. Tony Robie earned 2019 ACC Coach of the Year honors following a third straight top-10 NCAA Wrestling finish after posting back-to-back ACC titles in his initial two campaigns. First-year softball coach Pete D'Amour earned ACC Coach of the Year honors in 2019, while John Sung accomplished the same feat at the helm of Tech's lacrosse program in 2018.

The student-athlete experience is always at the forefront of Babcock's of mind and he played an integral role in securing 176 residence spaces for student-athletes with an interest in interdisciplinary creation and entrepreneurship in the Creativity and Innovation District Residence Hall, which is slated for completion in 2021. This $105.5 million project on the Virginia Tech campus will encompass 200,000 square feet and feature a total of 596 beds, as well as academic, research and collaboration space.

Babcock and his team have spent several years laying the groundwork for the launch of the ACC Network in August 2019. Those preparations have included the construction of control rooms, engineering and office space in the south end zone of Lane Stadium and will also include studio space on the west side of the stadium facing Beamer Way. In addition to approximately $10 million in infrastructure, the Hokies are also making significant investments in equipment and human resources to showcase Tech's athletic programs, the campus and its people in the best possible light.

Another major construction project benefitting all Hokies' athletic programs began earlier in 2019. Tech's Student-Athlete Performance Center will be located on the fourth floor of the Jamerson Athletics Center. Thanks to a $15.2 million gift, this multi-purpose space will allow for the sports nutrition staff to feed student-athletes in all 22 sports and also to be used for donor hospitality before football and basketball games, recruiting and a myriad of other functions.

In the spring of 2018, the athletics department concluded an $18 million renovation of English Field at Atlantic Union Bank Park and the conclusion of an $18 million project that resulted in the construction of a softball hitting facility and the conversion of Rector Field House into a home for the Hokies' track and field programs. Major upgrades at the Burrows-Burleson Tennis Center are also on the docket.

Babcock's 2016 revamping of the Hokie Club, the athletics department's fundraising arm, continues to pay dividends, as the club raised a school-record $47.7 million overall for the giving cycle ending March 31, 2018, with nearly $16.8 million designated for the Hokie Scholarship Fund, which goes toward the rising costs of tuition for the school's more than 500 scholarship student-athletes.

In addition, in December of 2016, Babcock implemented a "Drive for 25" initiative designed to increase membership in the Hokie Club to 25,000 members. He tabbed Beamer to serve as the spokesperson for the campaign, which helps raise the financial resources to provide Virginia Tech student-athletes with the opportunities to continue their success in the classroom, in competition and in the community.

Other accomplishments during Babcock's tenure include the launching of a new mission statement and core values for the athletics department. The mission statement and the core values—integrity, service, honor, excellence and strong together—represent the foundation of the department and every decision made. In addition, he unveiled the "Pylons of Promise," a landmark document that sets forth the university's and the athletics department's commitment to student-athletes during their times at Virginia Tech. This document served as Virginia Tech's response to the changes in the NCAA governance landscape. The Pylons of Promise is based on the ideals emblazoned on the eight pylons at the Virginia Tech War Memorial Court.

Babcock arrived in Blacksburg following two-and-a-half years as the director of athletics at the University of Cincinnati and five years at the University of Missouri, where he served as the executive associate director of athletics. His background in fundraising, marketing, promotions, ticket sales, licensing and multimedia partnerships were key attributes in support of his hiring. In his introductory press conference at Virginia Tech, Babcock cited three guiding principles for his vision for the athletics department's future: commitment to comprehensive excellence, centering the department's focus on the student-athlete experience and engaging the community.

Over the past eight years, both while at Cincinnati and Virginia Tech, Babcock has been active on the local and national speaking circuits. He has presented before the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA), National Association of Collegiate Women Athletics Administrators (NACWAA) and the 1-A Athletic Directors Association annual institute. He is a past president of the National Association of Athletic Development Directors (NAADD).

A former student-athlete himself, Babcock lettered four years in baseball at James Madison University and served as team captain his senior year. He earned his bachelor's degree from JMU in 1992. In 1996, he received his master's in sports management from West Virginia University. He and his wife, Kelly, have three sons: Andrew, Brett and Eli.

Print and digital advertising are also available and ever-expanding.

During its very successful partnership with Virginia Tech, Virginia Tech Sports Properties has developed the Virginia Tech Sports Network from Learfield IMG College into the largest collegiate sports radio network in Virginia. Broadcast coverage includes the commonwealth of Virginia, as well as portions of Maryland, North Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, Washington, D.C., and West Virginia. The Virginia Tech Sports Network from Learfield IMG College includes affiliates in five of the top 120 markets in the country; Washington, D.C. (7), Charlotte, NC (24), Norfolk/Virginia Beach (45), Richmond (53) and Roanoke (119). Those affiliates join the Flagship home of the Hokies in Blacksburg, VA, Monticello Media's 105.3 FM "The Bear."

The network's video and digital efforts include a variety of content pertaining to Virginia Tech football including Hokies Walk Through, which allows fans to interact directly with "The Voice of the Hokies" Jon Laaser prior to Hokies' home games on Facebook Live. Additionally, the network's digital efforts include exclusive access to head coach Justin Fuente and behind-the-scenes access as the Hokies prepare for game day.

Virginia Tech Sports Properties also works diligently to stay on the forefront of an ever-evolving multi-media climate. That includes conceptualizing content that provides Hokie Nation a variety of audio and video streaming options to keep up with Tech football throughout the season. In 2019 those initiatives will include worldwide streaming of game action and coach's shows on TuneIn and the HokieSports app and website. Fans can also get weekly insight from the broadcast crew and exclusive player interviews through HokiePod, which returns for a third season and is available for download on Thursday of game weeks. Daily content for social mediums is also available throughout the year.

Other advertising and marketing opportunities managed by Virginia Tech Sports Properties include the state-of-the-art video screens inside Lane Stadium, Cassell Coliseum and English Field at Atlantic Union Bank Park. Virginia Tech Sports Properties also features venue signage, ribbon board LED advertising and promotion, pre-game hospitality events and a wide array of print and digital opportunities across all Virginia Tech sports.

Whether your interest is in radio, video, digital media, social media, print, promotions, signage, video board or event impact, Virginia Tech Sports Properties is your corporate connection to Virginia Tech.

@LazeVT

JON LAASER (pronounced "laser") enters his fifth season as "The Voice of the Hokies" in 2019. In that role, Laaser serves as the lead announcer for Virginia Tech football and men's basketball across the Virginia Tech Sports Network from Learfield IMG College. Additionally, he is the host of the weekly Tech Talk Live! radio program, Hokies Walk Through on Facebook Live and provides analysis weekly on HokiePod. Laaser also serves as one of the primary announcers for Tech's ACC Network broadcasts, pens the "Behind the Mic" column for

Inside Hokie Sports magazine and frequently serves as an emcee, public speaker and ambassador for the University. The Chanhassen, Minnesota native boasts a wide range of football, basketball and baseball announcing experience throughout his 18-year broadcasting career. Named to his current position on June 23, 2015, he joined Virginia Tech after spending four years working as a television and radio announcer for VCU men's and women's basketball. His broadcasting journey originally brought him to Virginia in 2009 as one of the founding staff members of the Richmond Flying Squirrels, the Double-A affiliate of the San Francisco Giants. He spent six seasons (2010-2015) as "The Voice of the Squirrels" and during that time garnered regional college basketball television assignments which included partnering with analyst John Feinstein on NBC Sports Washington.

Recognized by his peers as one of the top young play-by-play talents in the country, longtime FOX Sports and Cincinnati Reds broadcaster Thom Brennaman was one of the several prominent sports figures who endorsed Laaser along with the "Voice of the Minnesota Vikings" Paul Allen.

Working for Hampton Roads Sports Network in 2014-15, Laaser served as the lead play-by-play broadcaster for college and high school football and basketball telecasts featuring schools throughout Virginia. He was also "The Voice of the Buccaneers" for the football and basketball programs of Charleston Southern from 2008-09, in addition to baseball broadcasting duties with the Myrtle Beach Pelicans, which at the time was the Class A Advanced affiliate of the Atlanta Braves.

His extensive baseball background also includes stints with the Altoona (PA) Curve (Pirates AA affiliate), Montgomery (AL) Biscuits (Rays AA affiliate), Yakima (WA) Bears (Diamondbacks short-season A affiliate), St. Paul (MN) Saints (independent) and St. Cloud River Bats (Northwoods League). Laaser's professional career began in Minnesota with stints working for KFAN Radio in Minneapolis and KXSS Radio in St. Cloud as well as with the NFL's Minnesota Vikings. Laaser is a graduate of Brown College in the Twin Cities and currently resides in Blacksburg with his wife, Renée, whom he wed in May of 2018.

@MikeBurnopVT

MIKE BURNOP, Virginia Tech's Hall of Fame network analyst, enters his 37th season in the Hokies' football booth. In addition to his role as analyst, Burnop handles all post-game interviews from Tech's locker room. His versatility at the mic is nearly unparalleled in collegiate athletics as he also serves as the analyst for Tech men's basketball broadcasts. He is one of just a few announcers nationwide that provide analysis for both sports.

With Laaser, Tech's radio duo teams up to bring fans Tech Talk Live!, a weekly in-season radio program that features in-depth analysis from both Head Football Coach Justin Fuente and Head Basketball Coach Mike Young. Burnop is one of the most in-demand emcees in the commonwealth, hosting numerous Hokie Club and University events (and barbeques) throughout the year. He also serves as an analyst on the weekly HokiePod podcast.

Burnop, a star tight end for the Hokies in his playing days, held the Virginia Tech record in a season by a tight end with 46 from the end of his playing career until it was broken by Bucky Hodges in 2016 (48). Burnop also ranks second all-time (Hodges) for career yards receiving by a tight end. He was inducted into the Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame in 2000. In addition to his broadcasting duties, Burnop owns New River Office Supply, a business operating in Blacksburg, Pearisburg and Salem, VA. Burnop is a prominent member of the Blacksburg community, frequently lending his time, voice and talents to philanthropic causes throughout the area.

@YoWesgioTheFan

WES MCELROY is the afternoon host at Sports Radio (910 AM/105.1 FM) the Fan in Richmond, VA, a longtime affiliate of the Virginia Tech Sports Network from Learfield IMG College.

The two-time Virginia Sportscaster of the Year has been the leading sports talk voice in Central Virginia for over 12 years and has served the past two years as the co-host of the Hokies official pregame show, "The Kubota Kickoff Show." He has also co-hosted The Hokies Walk Through with Laaser on Facebook Live and served as a fill-in sideline reporter. In 2019, McElroy will take over as the full-time pre and post-game host for Tech football, while also assuming the role of full-time sideline reporter. He will continue his hosting duties on The Hokies Walk Through. McElroy lives in Richmond's West End with his wife of seven years, Katie, and their daughter, London.

@AAllegretta

ANDREW ALLEGRETTA is in his ninth season as the Director of Broadcast Operations for Digital Media and Olympic Sports. He contributes to Virginia Tech football and men's basketball broadcasts, and also hosts the weekly HokiePod podcast. Allegretta, who was named the 2018 Virginia Sportscaster of the Year by the National Sports Media Association, also serves as the play-by-play broadcaster for Virginia Tech women's basketball and baseball. In addition, he is one of the primary announcers for Virginia Tech's ACCN broadcasts. A native of Yarmouth, Maine, Allegretta graduated from Syracuse University with a degree in broadcast journalism. He currently resides in Blacksburg with his wife Jessica.

VT Strategic Communications

Media interested in Tech athletics, be it an interview or press credential request, are encouraged to contact the Strategic Communications Office.

Hokie coaches and student-athletes work closely with the Strategic Communications staff in servicing media requests. Please, don't hesitate to give us a call.

All interview requests for Virginia Tech coaches, student-athletes and administrators should be directed to an appropriate member of the Strategic Communications staff.

Due to the construction of the new Student-Athlete Performance Center, the Strategic Communications Office has a new location. It is now located in the lobby of Cassell Coliseum, with its entrance located on Washington Street.

All media members coming to campus during the week need to stop by the Visitor and Undergraduate Admissions Center at 925 Prices Fork Road to obtain a parking pass.

Media will be responsible for paying any fines they incur while on campus.

THE PRESS BOX

The press box at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field comprises seven levels. Newspaper, radio and television reporters work on the fifth level.

The media area of the press box is accessible via elevators Nos. 4 & 5, which are located on the west side, in the south tower.

Admission to the press box is by credential only. Smoking is not allowed in the stands or in any enclosed area of Lane Stadium, including the press box and rest rooms.

JUST VIRGINIA TECH, PLEASE

While the full name of the school is Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, the school is commonly referred to as "Virginia Tech." Founded in 1872, as Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College, the university changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1896. Fans of the athletics department, as well as media covering the Hokies, shortened the name to VPI, but it eventually became Virginia Tech. The "State University" was added in 1970 to bring the official title to what it is today.

Those covering Hokie athletics are asked to refer to the university as simply "Virginia Tech." Virginia Tech University, VPI and SU, VPI&SU, "Vah Tech," VT or VA Tech are not recognized names and should not be used.

HokieVision & ACC Network

In March 2018, the Virginia Tech Board of Visitors approved plans for a $10 million investment in facilities, equipment and infrastructure on the Tech Athletics footprint of campus, as the Hokies readied for the anticipated launch of the ACC Network in 2019.

The development of two identical linear network control rooms, including audio and replay suites, as well as state-of-the-art engineering, shading and editing suites came to fruition in the spring of 2019 in the former Shott Media Center in the south end zone of Lane Stadium. These two control rooms have the ability to allow HokieVision — the athletics department's video staff — to produce simultaneously live Virginia Tech sporting events for the ESPN networks, including the new linear ACC Network set to launch in August 2019. In addition, the rooms can be used to produce ACC Network Extra digital broadcasts. The first linear television broadcast produced out of the south end zone was a Virginia Tech baseball game against Boston College on May 6, 2019.

A second location on the first floor of Lane Stadium's West Side that currently houses a memorabilia area will be transformed into studios, as well as another control room and audio suite. In addition to programming for the ACC Network, this location will be used for HokieVision, as well as potential future collaborative efforts with Virginia Tech academic departments.

Hokie Club

Founded in 1949 as the Virginia Tech Athletic Fund with the expressed purpose of funding scholarships for student-athletes at Tech, today the Hokie Club serves as the official conduit between fans and Virginia Tech Athletics.

"I know firsthand from both my experience as a player and from coaching just how important scholarships are to young people here at Virginia Tech," Frank Beamer said, who earned a football scholarship to Tech long before embarking on his legendary coaching career. "Scholarships change lives, and that's why Cheryl and I have always been willing to give to help these student-athletes not just to play sports, but to be a part of such a special place and get a degree. Many of my former players wouldn't have received that opportunity otherwise."

BILL LANSDEN

SENIOR ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR OF DEVELOPMENT AND EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF THE HOKIE CLUB

Lansden joined Virginia Tech in 2015 and serves as the chief major gift officer for Intercollegiate Athletics. He is responsible for the planning and implementation of the overall fundraising efforts from all private sources. Under his leadership, overall giving to the Hokie Club approached $48 million based on the most recent benefit giving cycle that concluded March 31, 2018, shattering the previous record of $33 million set only a year ago. The Drive for 25 campaign continues to bolster membership numbers in the Hokie Club as Tech seeks to keep pace with increasing scholarship costs.

Prior to his arrival in Blacksburg, Lansden spent two years as the Senior Associate AD for External Relations at the University of Alabama at Birmingham. While at UAB, he oversaw a staff of 25 in the areas of development, marketing, media relations and ticketing for the Blazers' 18 sports. Prior to UAB, he spent nine years (2004-2013) as the Associate AD for Athletics Development at the University of Memphis, where he oversaw capital campaigns, the major gifts program and annual giving. Lansden received a Bachelor of Arts degree in business administration from Rhodes College where he lettered four years in football. He also received a Master of Science degree in sports administration from Georgia State in 1993. He and his wife, Blair, are parents of twin daughters—Madeline and Delaney.
